Dorian has a new grand nephew. Her nephew Matt and his wife Kate had Noah at the end of April. He was sleeping and the parents snapped this picture which looks like a little Buddha. When Dorian got the picture she added the Dalai Lama holding him. The little souls that are being born now are amazing. We have always been wonderful and now we get to remember that we are divine.

Here is Red Butte which is in front of our house. This was right at the end of May.

May brought rain and snow for a lot of the month. Starting the Wednesday before Mother's Day it began to rain and it rained straight through. By Friday we had rain and snow mix and then Saturday it snowed all day. It was warm enough that the snow didn't stick much. We got two and a half feet of new snow pack in the mountains. Mother's Day was cold and rainy. We had Sun for a couple of days and then it began to rain again. Years ago St. Germain said that Wyoming would become more temperate and it certainly is getting more moisture than it used to.

Here is one thing that the rain has brought us. This is becoming one of the best years for flowers in recent times. These lupine are in our front yard.

Dorian found this sweet flower on one of her nature walks.

Dorian's sister Karen came and spent a week with us the end of May. The Buddah boy is her grandson. She lives in Oregon.

St. Germain is continuing the “Personal Growth” package. Each month you can get the Teachings, Q & A and a one hour private session with St. Germain to develop your personal evolution in spirit. The cost will be $120 per month with a six month commitment which is a great deal as a one hour private session is $200 normally. Just imagine spending an hour of valuable time each month discussing anything about your growth that you wish with the Master. We have the good fortune of spending time with him regularly and it is such an up lifting experience.

The June group will be on the 14th at 2 pm. St. Germain will speak about “The Truth of Equality”. We hear about equality and we talk about how we are or should be equal, but here is another concept that cannot be put into effect intellectually and have it make a difference. Telling people to respect each other when they have not been enlightened about how to truly respect themselves is an exercise in futility. If you cannot feel how respect feels within yourself, you have nothing to give another but a shadow. This is true of any intellectual perception. The finite mind simply does not grasp the magnitude and scope of self-respect and self-appreciation unless you are willing to go deeper into your own feeling nature and discover just how wonderful it feels to have respect for you from you.

Our Teaching with the Master for June is “Life without Pain”. Pain is a primary indicator of some level of resistance. We are being confronted with emotions that we have not dealt with in life times. We have been told not to cry, not to show pain and now we must integrate the pain so that we can move on. Imagine a life without pain! As we remember the truth of our being we can step through the pain and out the other side to experience a life without the pain that the Illusion has forced upon us and we have accepted because we thought that we had to. The Teaching is on the second Wednesday evening of each month at 7 pm MT.

Our call-in for the Q&A of the Teachings is the fourth Wednesday evening at 7 pm MST.

If you haven't had the experience of the Teachings that St. Germain is offering this year they really help us to understand what is going on. It just might be worth your while to check them out. The deep healing power of the Master is there to experience again and again as you listen to the awesome wisdom that he brings. CDs are $15 for each set—Teachings or Q&A. It is $25 to call in one time or $40 for both sessions each month. Postage and handling are separate.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON-JUNE 2

The Full Moon illuminates our inner darkness. The two signs that are receiving this enlightenment for June are Gemini that seeks to gather and share information and Sagittarius that desires to discover truth and the meaning of life. We have access to more data than ever before, but we lack the wisdom to process it. There are more “time-saving” devices and yet it takes more time to use them. We have been active on the planet for thousands of years yet we have reached a place where we create more data in two days than we did in the first hundred thousand years of our existence.

The human body is experiencing tremendous stress attempting to process all of this information. The brain is being pushed to make continuous changes and this multi-tasking burns up more glucose, which makes us feel more and more exhausted and disoriented. CONSTANT STIMULATION CO-OPTS THE SAME BRAIN SYSTEMS INVOLVED IN ADDICTION, ACTIVATING OUR MORE UNCONSCIOUS, REACTIVE LIMBIC SYSTEM RATHER THAN OUR SELF-AWARE PREFRONTAL CORTEX. Research is showing that when we are multi-tasking, we actually take much more time to do things, make more mistakes and increase our stress levels exponentially. It is beginning to be suspected that extreme multi-tasking can affect the brain's cognitive ability with losses that are even greater than pot smoking. The incidence of memory loss connected to Alzheimer's has increased proportionally to the increase of extreme data download. The finite mind does not integrate information fast enough to escape chemical imbalances due to the excesses involved in energetically over processing.

Neptune at 10 degrees Pisces forms a t-square with this Full Moon indicating another way of perceiving and knowing. Intuition is nonlinear and non-temporal; it connects us with an intelligence far beyond the bounds of logic or analysis. To access this intelligence we are required to slow down and enter into the inner realms of self. In ancient times we operated from the “body-brain” or Soul Center in the solar plexus. The further we moved into separation the more we began to rely on the intellectual mind rather than the total connection to the being that we are. The sixth sense encompasses the five senses that we have counted on in Illusion. We are so much more than the limits that we have lived in in Illusion. Neptune squares Mercury, Mars and Saturn, as well as the Sun and Moon, challenging us to switch to a very different operating system that is primarily guided by our connection to our higher spiritual self rather than just our finite mind.

The busier our lives become that more necessary it is to have quiet time for meditation and soul connection. Starting our day with integrative time can mean the difference between delight and disaster. As we become aware that being connected to self makes a huge difference between reactive behavior and calm, centered address to the affairs of life. We are more peaceful, productive and efficient which de-stresses our lives. We become more trusting of our own choices and less dependent on the opinions of others which frees us to be more deeply self-expressive.

“Fast and furious” has become the motto for these times—the faster you go, the more furious you become. Grant yourself the luxury of going slow. Pay attention, right now, so that you do not “act in haste and repent in leisure”. The Bible says, “Be still and know that I AM GOD”. Find your connection to God within by finding that inner stillness.

NEW MOON-JUNE 16

Our universe is constantly sending us information that is vital to our physical/spiritual health and well-being. This New Moon directs our attention to what is affecting us and how we influence others. We shape our world by our thoughts, words and deeds. We are truly feeling beings, though we have been taught to pay more attention to the physical/mental realms. We have been given the belief that: “If I don't say something out loud, no one will know that I had the thought”. We have also been directed to certain patterns of behavior that prevent us from paying much attention to other people. If we “listen” with our eyes and our hearts rather than just hearing sounds that someone else is making, we will discover more information that is extremely important to us, to those we care about, and actually, the whole world. Facial expression and body English are such dramatic parts of communication that if we are texting, tuning someone out or just waiting for the sound of their voice to stop so that we can speak, we miss vital bits of information about what they really mean. We have between 12,000 and 50,000 thoughts per day.

Thoughts have a measureable electric charge and stimulate the release of neuropeptides—messenger molecules that affect our health, emotions and cellular structure. What we are thinking is being energetically transmitted to others all of the time. We design and create the world that we live in by our thoughts and belief systems.

The New Moon in Gemini is all about communication and gathering information. Mars joins this New Moon indicating that it is time to revamp our perspective and expression of the Warrior archetype. Ares, the ancient Greek version of Mars, was portrayed as a destructive and brutal force of control by war and abuse. By the time that the Roman Empire came into being, Mars was elevated to being the founder of Rome, second only to Jupiter, King of the Gods. The survival of the Human race depends on the masculine side of both male and female growing into a spiritual warrior that recognizes that the true battle lies within self, who accepts that self-mastery is gained only when there is self-discipline, rather than the dominance of others that keeps an illusion going through ignorance and fear.

Chiron is square to Mars and this New Moon, issuing a challenge to heal the wounds of patriarchy, which have been deeply destructive to both men and women. Men have been given the belief that manliness is about distance from others; men must shut down their hearts and despise their sensitivity. Women have been taught to give up their power and submit to the “laws” that men have made for them. It is no accident that heart disease is the number one cause of death for both sexes. The world is dealing with its issues from anger rather than love perpetuating a belief that gentleness and compassion are weaknesses to be avoided. Venus is in a very close semi-square to the Sun and Moon and quincunx to Neptune (10 degrees Leo-Pisces) which emphasizes Chiron’s message: Our own healing brings the healing of the whole and as we can forgive our inner tyrant and victim, we regain our power to both heal and feel.

There are other supporting aspects that aid our ability to use power wisely. Uranus’s close semi-square to Mercury at 5 degrees Gemini and trine to Jupiter at 19 degrees Leo assist us to have the courage to follow our own inner guidance with faith and interdependence, rather than to follow the crowd. Breakthroughs and quantum leaps come quickly. PAY ATTENTION TO SYCHRONICITY EVERYWHERE, ALL OF THE TIME. This is a sure indication of your evolution. If we are not prepared to change with grace Saturn’s reentry into Scorpio on June 14 (where it will remain until September 17) impels us to recognize and overcome the fears and patterns of Illusion that are preventing us from shining as brightly as we can. On June 20 Saturn semi-squares Pluto (29 degrees Scorpio-14 degrees Capricorn) will highlight the areas of our life where we tend to refuse to own our authority (authorship of our life) and avoid responsibility. We are being nudged to move forward, but the Capricorn goat can butt hard enough to get our attention, while the depths of Scorpio reveal hidden fears.

You are designing your world with every thought. Negative thoughts create tomorrow just as powerfully as positive ones. It has been said that it takes seven positive thoughts to counter one negative one. What kind of world are you creating? You are not a helpless victim to your habits, but you are required to put all of your power to overcoming the past. Love will win, but it is up to you when you will allow the victory for yourself.

FLOWER ESSENCES

Since Gemini is all about communication and sharing ideas as well as the gathering of information I want offer some essences that help with different aspects of thought and communication.

THINKING

Angelica—In these modern times we feel, more than ever, cut off from the intimate aspects of life by technology and materialism. Angelica addresses the soul’s experience of compression and restriction by quickening the thinking and perception process. The soul becomes more able to perceive and discriminate its connection to the subtle sheaths surrounding the physical world. Angelica is important at threshold times such as birth, death, festival celebrations or other major life passages.

White Chestnut— essence is indicated for those who suffer extreme mental agitation. Their thinking life is not free, but is highly compulsive and obsessive. The life energy is drained out through excessive worry and anxiety, which is not directed outward toward others but is kept inside through a constant churning of the mind. Daily events, conversations or other life episodes are continually replayed and analyzed, imprisoning the soul within the mental field. White Chestnut frees the mental life for the calm, clear and spacious activity of the Higher Mind.

COMMUNICATION

Calendula—imparts a warm, golden light of healing for those souls who must learn to use “the Word” as a truly creative spiritual force. Calendula gives great forces of warmth and benign compassion to the human soul, especially helping to balance the active and receptive modes of communication.

Larch—helps those individuals who suffer from great self-doubt and poor self-esteem. The soul is lacking in confidence and thus projects failure, poor performance, or harsh judgment by others, far beyond the objective situation. Larch frees creative potential, giving the individual renewed confidence and expressiveness. It assists the soul to transcend old behavior patterns.

Pink Monkeyflower—treats a type of fear which resides in the deepest recesses of the EGO, the fear of being exposed, of others seeing one’s pain and vulnerability. Such persons experience a profound sense of shame, and thus have a need to hide or mask themselves as a form of protection. Pink Monkeyflower is a remedy which is especially effective for the heart, teaching that it is only by remaining open and risking vulnerability that one can experience the warmth of human love and affection.

Snapdragon—whether as a bold personality who can be overbearing in physical strength and energy or one who has been culturally repressed, causing the energy to be improperly released elsewhere in the body, both of these patterns of imbalance, the individual will misdirect digestive and sexual forces which rightly belong in the center. The spoken word is misused in a harsh or destructive way, with the tendency toward biting sarcasm or lashing criticism. By harmonizing the relationship between energy centers the soul evolves in its use of creative power.

We are being called to make deep personal and spiritual changes and the fears of letting go and making the changes can be assisted by essences that help us to get our balance in the midst of the breakdown of old patterns that we have relied on even though they were not necessarily positive. The shifts that we are experiencing are operating at levels that are beyond our control, in fact control, in and of itself, is beginning to diminish in its power. We have attempted to gain power over others by manipulation and misrepresentation or abuse. All of these patterns are being revealed for what they are and no longer are considered courageous, but are showing up for the cowardly approach that they have always been. The subtlety of abuse is not an aspect of a fine mind.

We will find that we are being moved to speak and operate from the heart/soul center rather than from the EGO aspects of the finite mind. We are discovering that true freedom exists only when we live our highest and best self in all ways.

There are many other essences and we encourage you to explore this wonderful world of essential support.

QUOTES FOR THE MONTH from St. Germain

When you find yourself you will discover the energy to accomplish what you are about, who you have always been and where you are going, as well as, discovering the gift that you are to the world.

A warrior does not have to be a war maker. The peaceful warrior, simply puts all of his or her energy into powerfully bringing enlightenment and delight to others by sharing the best of themselves.

NOW is the only safe place there is. Moving forward is the only way you can truly go. Your safe place goes with you everywhere you are so as you move forward into the remembrance of yourself you will discover that time and space are servants there to uplift you rather than hamper your progress.

You have tried to create a world based on mental concepts and the world has become progressively more focused on negativity and smallness. It is now time to create a world that flows with the wonder of dreams. It takes courage to let it happen, but as you dream the dreams that are waiting to be born there is a whole new world just beyond the old limits waiting in hushed silence for your dreams to unlock the future.

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters,

TIMING IS EVERYTHING!!! Humanity is looking for something and it feels big and important. You may feel as though what you are looking for is illusive, but the reason you cannot find what you are looking for is because it is not outside of you or in front of you or even behind you—it is inside of you.

People have experiences that seem devastating. It seems as though life is over. As time passes and the initial shock wears off, the vision clears and the internal support that has always been there becomes evident. Help is available when you are ready to receive it and not one moment before. The EGO can say “I am ready” as much as it wants, but change can only occur when you are in agreement with yourself—mentally, physically, emotionally and spiritually. The mind is not the controlling factor though it certainly would have you believe that it is more important than the other elements of your nature.

Pride can be a great deterrent to achieving what you desire. Refusing to really look into yourself and acknowledge the truth about yourself is one of the greatest limiting factors in these times. The EGO would rather die than have you find the truth about yourself because if you discover how truly amazing you really are, you will never be easily controlled again.

Secrets have been a form of bondage that humanity has accepted as true ever since spoken language emerged. When communication was non-verbal there was a sense of trust that began to disappear as the spoken word put thoughts outside of self and separated the mind from the totality of your being.

Oppression, repression and suppression have been methods of separation used by those in positions of authority, throughout time, to keep “the masses” in alignment. You have been instructed for life times that you could not possibly understand yourself, your life or anything of importance about yourself in the world, unless someone outside of you explained you to you. The subtext has been you could not possibly know who you are. Now it is time to discover who you have become through all of those life times when you were looking to others, to society, to your parents, to the government or church to tell you who you are, where you belong and how you must function (the power giveaway of the Illusion).

It is time to ask yourself the questions that you have been asking everyone else. “Who am I?” is not something that anyone else really knows but you. “Why am I here?” Feel into the depths of your being as you ask the questions and follow the energetic patterns of your divine blueprint within to discover your purpose. You are here to remember who you are. It is in your DNA. It is written in the Akashic records of your Soul. It is the reason that you are here now. Your purpose is the life you are living and healing the part of you that has been playing the Game of Separation. “Am I good enough, worthy enough to accomplish what I came for?” The EGO always makes the purpose feel as though it is insurmountable and out there somewhere, something you must do for others or give to the world. Discovering the totality of you is the biggest, most important, most loving reason for any Master to be here now. You cannot give what you have not recognized within yourself. You cannot steal something from someone else and say “Now I have what I was looking for”. If it does not belong to you it will quickly turn to dust and the hunger, thirst and burning need of the world will be back. When you find yourself you will discover the energy to accomplish what you are about, who you have always been and where you are going, as well as, discovering the gift that you are to the world. This is not a process of figuring out what to do, where to go or why you are here. This is a rewiring process within that activates the quantum shifts that are now being called for in everyone. The EGO resists these changes with all of its cunning and guile. It tells you that the changes are dangerous and it tells everyone who will listen the same lie, so that you keep hearing that lie repeated “by those in high places, with authority” and surely they must know? Question the thoughts, don’t throw them away, but accept nothing completely without feeling into it beyond the first reaction of the small self. Nothing is as it seems in these times. Feel into your deepest self to find the truth of yourself according to God's will which is always for the highest and best good of each and everyone. God's will is not and never has been punishment or persecution.

We speak again and again of going within and the finite mind always asks, "How do I do that?" We repeatedly say, "You cannot create an inner connection with yourself mentally". You may feel that things are really changing on Earth and one of the greatest changes is how humanity will use energy in the future. The energy of doing is no longer cost effective. It is becoming antiquated and ineffective. You are physical, but how you use your body, mind and emotions is being translated into quantum relationship to the whole—planets, stars, galaxies. You are no longer just a "little earthling". Your dynamics in the whole are becoming so much more. The EGO hates being small and fears being great. Thus is the quandary of the Illusion. You have played the Game for life times and now you finally get to understand the reason and the full effect of all that you have accomplished. The mind wants to only relate things to the physical world—money, sex, health issues, career moves, military strategy and power plays. You are and always have been so much more. The evolution has slowly brought you to this time and now Revelation is pulling away the veils of Illusion so that you can discover for yourself, from the very depths of your being, Truth that is undeniable. When a Truth is told you feel it. Frequently, you will get chills when something powerful is spoken. Learning to trust your own recognition of what serves you in the ongoing of your life is imperative. Feelings embrace an expanse of self-awareness that has not been available to you before because it wasn't time. Emotions have been confined to the physical realms and primarily pertained to reaction to the dramas of life. Feelings open the way to the internal connection that brings higher consciousness to the conscious mind. The finite mind can record vast amounts of knowledge, but it has very little experience in the interpretation of that knowledge so that it can help you in your life. So much that is taught on the planet is theoretical; life has not been viewed as a great experiment to understand higher quality, as much as a fight for survival, which doesn't leave much time for self-understanding. This theory has been left to great thinkers, but often that is what they do; they think and think and think without putting the concepts into practice in real life. Just because something seems to "makes sense" to the finite mind, does not necessarily mean that it will work in application to real living. In the military "arm-chair lieutenants" may or may not be brilliant strategists when what they think will work is put into application.

As you learn to connect within yourself to the power center in your solar plexus, you connect to the wisdom that is yours and life is no longer "purely guesswork". You feel within a deep sense of support and accuracy of fact that becomes dependable and trustworthy. You realize that you are a Master. The EGO wants power and fears it, because someone else might be more powerful. As you remember your wise self the use of power takes on a new level of consciousness that includes the collective whole. No longer are you alone against the world—YOU ARE A FULL CITIZEN OF THAT WORLD. Responsibility becomes RESPONS-ABILITY!! Instead of wanting to shut others out so that you don't have to be bothered, you can allow the connection and feel a sense of AT-ONE-MENT that has not been obvious to you for life times. Suddenly, the knowledge that you have bursts into full awareness that brings an intuitive completion, the connection to the divine that is filled with compassion and understanding, rather than a desire to destroy anything that you cannot control.

In a world of duality there has been the struggle of good against evil. Masters are aware within themselves that there is both light and darkness; however, the Master recognizes the innate ability to balance both because of a willingness to feel the totality of the God-self blending with the human self. In the separation the sense of what goodness brings is strong in some, while others still believe that the only way to get what you want is force and control. Masters feel the connection within and can see/feel what the potential outcome of choice can be. Decisions made based on highest and best outcomes for all bring a strong internal foundation, a stronger sense of faith and a new level of clarity that sees beyond the Illusion. The finite-mind is reacting to change as it always has; as something to be feared and regarded as dangerous. The changes that are happening now were set in motion when this whole game began and as Masters you all agreed to the timing, just as you agreed to forget (for a time) that you are eternally connected to all of creation. The act of remembering is not restricted to this life or recent lives, but to the very beginning of souls taking human form. The evolutionary process was necessary so that the DNA records would hold the memory of oneness with each and every level of existence.

More and more of you are discovering a personal willingness to find out what other people are about—a patience and desire to understand what others are looking for and why they are experiencing life the way that they do. The ability to really listen is deepening and the levels of compassion are increasing. A sense of caring that stems from recognizing your own inner quest opens the way to realize that others are seeking their own inner direction. A new language must be created because so often there seem to be no words in any language to define what is being felt. This language will often be non-verbal in its nature—the feeling of understanding that comes from not having to say anything, yet knowing that others are connected to the same energetic perception. These feelings of uniting with others expand beyond race, religion, cultural mores or limited definition of self. They embrace people as brothers and sisters in spirit, rather than just those who “look like me, think like me, act like me” and the All-ness becomes more inclusive. In the higher dimensional frequencies the heat of the warrior nature is tempered with cool reason that flows like a river from the depths of inner awareness. The physical human is blended with spirit and amalgamated into the New Divine Human who is prepared to create and experience the New World right where you are. Feel within to find the recognition of what life without fear can be. As you release the fears of the Illusion you find the courage that carries you through to higher living. The wealth of the intrinsic self brings the ability to feel rich beyond measure. Love, inner stability and the connection to the divine within are riches that the world cannot measure and no one can take them from another. Quantum understanding reveals that this is wealth beyond earthly grasp and it is waiting to be revealed right here, right now. You cannot get it by manipulation or control. The lies of Illusion hold nothing that is real. You find what is yours, waiting in the inner temple, where it has been kept safe and undamaged throughout all of the time of constructs. It is clear and real and fulfilling. The finite mind wants things to amass and store away as proof of being worthy, but your true worth has always been kept untarnished in the safest place possible—right inside of you. No proof is required because God has always known your value, even if you have chosen to say that “there is no God”.

God by any of the multitude of names is with you and so are we. In the greatest of Love we wait for you to remember. I AM the Lord St. Germain and I remain your most humble servant. Adieu!
