We have a pheasant in our yard this spring that has discovered “another pheasant” reflected in the hubcap of my car. He was making a terrible screeching noise and Dorian watched him to see what was going on. He was beating his beak against the hubcap and “shouting” at this pheasant in the hubcap. He would run around behind the wheel and “the other pheasant” wasn’t there. He would come back and begin to “do battle” with this intruder on his land. This has been going on for days. I guess he will either decide it isn’t worth it or knock himself out on the hubcap. How many times do we do the same thing? We decide that we must fight something and even if it is an illusion or perhaps even if it goes away we keep fighting. I hold an intension that this pheasant can lay down new pathways in its brain and recognize that the bird in the mirror is him.

Yesterday was the second day of spring and we took a drive up into the high country south of Lander. It is really still winter there. The snow is deep and pristine. Some of it is beginning to melt a little, but we are having snow at our house again today so it will be a while before the mountains begin to thaw.

The other morning as I was in that space between waking and sleep St. Germain showed me a vision of all of the weapons on the planet just disappearing, turning to dust or falling apart. It wasn’t that anyone did it or some group was responsible. The weapons just vanished. Russia went to set off a nuclear bomb and the silos were empty. Gun shops, weapon collectors, munitions stock piles all were gone. After the initial shock it was as if the collective consciousness just breathed a sign of relief and life lifted into a place of higher Love where the idea of weapons was no longer necessary.

The drug industry disappeared and people began to get really well. Without being poisoned by toxic chemicals in the name of healing our bodies can begin to reach whole new levels of wellness. Here again it was not that people were left in distress because there were no drugs, but that the desperate need for them just passed away. No need for suffering or dying, but being lifted into a Loving state where drugs just were not necessary. Logic would call this illusion. I call it the potential of what we can be if we are willing.

Personal Growth is certainly lifting people up who are willing to take the chance and make the changes for themselves. Love really does “Lift Us Up”!!

We invite you to take part in the Personal Growth series. There are openings available and new people are joining all of the time. Each month you can get the Teachings, Q & A and a one hour private session with St. Germain to develop your personal evolution in spirit. The cost will be $120 per month with a six month commitment which is a great deal as a one hour private session is $200 normally. Just imagine spending an hour of valuable time each month discussing anything about your growth that you wish with the Master. We have the good fortune of spending time with him regularly and it is such an up lifting experience.

Our Teaching for April is “How will I Know if I am a Master/Magikian?” So many people have been asking this question. It is kind “Are we there yet?” St. Germain says that we are making great movement and that we truly are already Masters. It is just recognizing that we are from the inside that makes the difference. Join us on the second Wednesday evening of each month at 7 p.m. Mountain Time for the call-in of the Teachings. The Q & A call-in is on the fourth Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

If you haven’t had the experience of the Teachings that St. Germain is offering this year they really help us to understand what is going on. It just might be worth your while to check them out. The deep healing power of the Master is there to experience again and again as you listen to the awesome wisdom that he brings. CDs are $15 for each set—Teachings or Q&A. It is $25 to call in one time or $40 for both sessions each month. Postage and handling are separate.

FULL MOON-April 15 Lunar Eclipse

Grab the edge of your chair!! This Full Moon is bring the biggest innovation and most electrifying clarity of any this year. It is a total Lunar Eclipse conjoining Ceres, Vesta and Juno; of the biggest import of all it underscores the grand cross between Mars, Jupiter, Uranus and Pluto.

Lunar eclipses occur when the Sun, Moon and Earth align more precisely, intensifying gravitational pull on tidal flows and tectonic plates. The amplified pull of Sun and Moon also affects the electromagnetic field of the Earth and everyone on the planet. The energy matrices that shape matter and consciousness are altered and we must change. As an eclipse slowly dims the light, what has been held in the unconscious mind comes to the surface and we are made aware of our dearest desires and deepest fears. What comes to us during this time can be the key to unlock blocked vision and alert us to what has been holding us back.

Ceres forms a close conjunction with the moon, bringing crucial environmental issues to the fore. We must consider that our food supply is being affected by the weather and climate changes. We will be called to be more responsible for where our food comes from—not only where it is grown, but how it is grown. We may also see the spotlight of current affairs shining on issues around women. Originally classified as a planet, then an asteroid and now a dwarf planet, Ceres symbolizes our relationship to Mother Nature and our willingness to care for ourselves so well that we find caring for others is a blessing rather than a burden. Vesta is an asteroid named for the mythic Goddess of the Hearth and it lies only two degrees from Ceres; both Ceres and Vesta entered Libra in November 2013 and remain within a few degrees of each other until August 2014. This puts the cosmic light on sacred, co-creative partnership with each other and the Earth. The asteroid Juno joins the Sun in Aries, accenting the requirement for both personal empowerment and clearer understanding in relationships.

April 21 marks the fifth of seven exact squares between Uranus and Pluto, an evolutionary imperative in effect from 2012 to 2015. We are impelled to manifest new ideas and new ways of living what we discover. Jupiter has been aspecting and amplifying the ongoing Uranus–Pluto square since July 2013; Now Mars moves into Libra forming a very tight cardinal grand square at 14 degrees (exact April 20-23) which heralds major breakthroughs or breakdowns. Key words for this time: COURAGE, COOPERATION, INGENUITY and INTEGRITY. More than ever we can see clearly what is working and what must be changed in order for us to move forward. A grand square generates four squares, requiring that we balance and integrate four major areas of our lives; personal growth and relationships with others, family and occupation. This is the second and most powerful grand square involving Mars, Jupiter, Uranus and Pluto. Pluto, the archetype of death and rebirth stations retrograde, on April 14 and appears to move backwards until September 22. Mercury joins Uranus at 13 degrees Aries just hours before the culmination of this Full Moon, activating the necessity to “Think outside of the Box”!!

This is the year of perspective. When you step to the opposite point from where/how you have viewed something it alters the view completely. Change your perspective.

NEW MOON-April 28-29

The Earth is constantly receiving about three billion megawatts of sunlight every second in the form of radio, X-ray, ultraviolet and other kinds of electromagnetic waves. Twice each year the Sun, Moon and Earth align precisely enough to stop this flow of solar radiation and during this time the electro-magnetic grids supporting creation are taken off-line, recoded and rebooted. Old programs that no longer serve us are erased and there is room for new possibilities to become available. Thus, Solar eclipses are exceptionally powerful New Moons. As we look at what was happening and where we were with our life the last time a Solar eclipse occurred on April 29 we can perhaps understand better where we require to make changes to assist in our forward motion. The last time that there was a Solar eclipse on April 29 was in 1995.

Taurus is the first of the three Earth signs and speaks to us about our relationship with matter—the physical world and all things that move, grow or sit on the planet, as well as the beings of the deep and birds of the air. We are being moved to find greater balance with all things every day. We cannot achieve that balance intellectually. It can only be found within as we allow ourselves to feel the internal gyroscope of spirit assisting us to be compassionately objective about our bodies and how we relate to all things of nature. We are healing a deep-seated fear of nature and the feminine which has been fostered by patriarchal teachings both in religion and secular life. What we don't understand we fear and what we fear we want to control, we attempt to dominate it and we separate ourselves from it. Now we must mend the profound disconnect from the environment and how that has caused us to mindlessly destroy our planet.

Anything that we seek to destroy, harm or dismiss as unimportant has a direct effect on our psyche because we are directly connected to everything and everyone on the planet. We are called at this time to take an active part in restoring our home to the Eden that it once was. This is not about warring over how to heal the Earth, but each person lovingly taking the time to offer the planet something beautiful and beneficial, as well as sending her beautiful and uplifting thoughts.

Venus is the traditional ruler of Taurus and is transiting Pisces at this New Moon. We are being reminded that we are an inseparable part of everything and everyone. Pisces brings the greatest awareness of our inherent unity and divinity. These realities are coming more into focus as we are remembering to live in reality rather than illusion. We access this energy by focusing on beauty, breathing in uplifting energies and feelings and spending time in connection with all aspects of nature.

We are still under the influence of the extremely powerful cardinal grand cross including Mars in Libra, Pluto in Capricorn, Uranus in Aries and Jupiter in Cancer. There are profound shifts occurring in the collective consciousness of humanity. The opportunity to influence the whole for the better can come only from changing the internal focus to beam Love without a condition into the collective psyche. This up lifts and assists all who are feeling afraid or unsure to feel a new clarity and sense of joy that brings the mood of the whole into higher awareness. As you sew, so shall you reap. Seeds of bitterness will never produce sweet fruit. Plant what you desire to harvest and all will benefit in Love.

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Linda had surgery for wrist and thumb issues and isn't up to doing the article this month, but here is some information on several black stones that is very interesting.

INDIGO GABRO

This is about healing lineage issues, of the healing, mending and forgiveness of what has been accepted as "so" throughout the lineage, passed down from generation to generation—"That's just how it is." When the parents feel that they are right about ideas because they learned them from their parents "who must have been right", they pass these concepts on to their children. "This is how it is. Don't question it. This is a sacred belief of our lineage." Children in these times, as in times past, are beginning to look at these rules or laws of the lineage and feel into them and say, "What a crock!" And, as children have been wont to do for generations, the child intends to break the trend. The children in these times are more capable of breaking those trends than any generation that has been here before.

This stone, worn anywhere within the area between the heart and the splenic chakra, brings healing as a peeling away of layers of illusion and assists in the revelation of what is really there within. The stone, placed in a small bag could be tied around the waistline, or worn on a string around the neck as long as it comes into the area between the heart chakra and the splenic chakra. Now, some ingenious people might even wear it in their belly button.

Oh, my God! What is under all those layers is you! The real, unadulterated, the uncomplicated, pure you! This is a magnificent healing stone and the layers may pass away without a single incident, while some layers may pass away as though they were extracted with a very keen knife because some layers are far more acute than others. Indigo Gabro assists in the ease of getting to who you really are.

SHUNGITE

In these times when the raising up or bringing forth of the shadow self is so prevalent on the planet the black stones are becoming more important. They are showing up in nature because they assist in reaching into self and getting in touch with the shadow to bring it forward so that it can be embraced by the light. This stone is, if you would, a mental suggestion. It touches into the soul but it suggests that the shadow is not a terrible thing but a part of self that has been buried, hidden like a treasure. Very often when the shadow is unearthed and looked at from a point of compassion and objectivity, it is recognized for something worthy rather than something to be feared. This stone is very much like the wonderful black lingam that reaches into self and helps people deal with their lineage issues. This stone from Russia is one of those that almost make a mirror of the shadow side. "Look at this. Really take a look at this--walk around it meditatively. Look at it from all its aspects. Don't look at it one-dimensionally or believe that what you see from one angle is all there is."

The stone, in and of itself, is almost like a companion on the journey into the shadow land to assist one to be able to acknowledge what is there without so much fear. Because certainly the cunning of the egoic mind has taught humanity to fear anything they cannot control. This stone in many ways, you might say, assists in the letting go of the need to control what you can't see, what you don't understand. And simply embrace it, acknowledge it, accept it.

STIBNITE

This is definitely a grounding stone. It is similar to hematite but it would work very specifically on emotional chaos and mental disturbance, bringing them into alignment. It would bring recognition of encoded understanding that has caused mental unbalances for those who are in institutions. They have been disturbed because they didn't understand what they were involved with or what they were in touch with. The unknown elements made them insanely fearful. This stone would help them to comprehend something that seems so big that it's terrifying-- themselves. It would bring an alignment that would be gradual but could definitely bring them home to themselves.

TANTRIC LINGAM STONE

As the kundalini energy is rising, as more and more people are becoming aware of power above their heart, this assists in dealing with the confusion over where the sexual power would function and how it would function. It truly would allow more clarifying of how the upper four chakras of the body would balance the lower three without conflict. It would serve one well to wear it somewhere in the area of the spleen, preferably between the navel and the solar plexus. It could be placed in the navel but this is rather low for this energy. You truly want to bring this into higher awareness. The upper four charkas are much clearer about spiritual power. Where the confusion lies, is breaking the tribal law. The lingam stone would greatly assist to have clarity in breaking tribal law or resending lineage issues.

Black

This is also something that would soothe the fear of the darkness. It would show the wisdom that's buried in the deep places within self. Things that have been held in the dark were judged in other lifetimes, many lifetimes and yet now, it is to bring them forth, integrate them and be absolutely amazed at what is revealed-revelation. The lingam addresses that part of humanity that has been taught to fight. As it is integrated, it brings a lot of your power back. Sexuality has been so confusing for humanity. It's a power, a power that is God-given and yet it has been turned into a dreadful game. The black lingam is a mender and a healer of all the issues that humanity carries around their sexuality, of the good and the bad, of the right and the wrong, the sinful or the sacred. This is a blender. When it is held in the solar plexus with the points up and down, it acts as a conductor to draw down the egoic mind to a blending with the soul. When it is held between the solar plexus and the splenic chakra, it is as though it opens a book of judgments that has been held in the belly and begins to clear things. So, from heart to solar plexus, it is the drawing down of the mind to connect with spirit and from the solar plexus to the splenic chakra, it is a healing of emotions and a reconnection to your own inner mysterious wisdom.

Enjoy the information and if you feel drawn to a stone, Linda can assist you in obtaining it.

BODY LANGUAGE

I have been large a good portion of my life. When I was very young (third grade) I was the tallest child in my class (4 ft. 8 in.) and weighed 80 lbs. I was 5 ft. 8 in. and weighed 140 lb. when I was thirteen. When I married I was 5 ft. 10 in. and weighed 165 lb.

Later in life, mid-fourties, as I was being prepared to channel I put on 100 lbs. in about three months. St. Germain said that the fluid was necessary to keep me from over-heating. Up to that time my top weight had been a little over 200 lbs.

Actually, at 71 I feel great and even though I would choose to reduce my size I feel healthy and seem to bounce back from the things that life has brought me as an opportunity.

If you are going to change the health or shape of your body, of course, you are required to eat differently. You cannot control your emotions with your mind, so deciding that you are going to change your eating habits without feeling the desire to make the change will lead to a break down in the drive at some point. Slow steady weight reductions is far superior to an enforced push too “lose weight” only to get discouraged and gain back more than you released.

Many people take a militant approach to “losing weight”. Some actually drop some weight, but few keep it off if they are not in love with themselves in the process. “Force vs. Power” does not last simply because force runs out of juice and you cannot sustain the energy of force for very long before it takes more out of you than you are getting back.

There is a power in Love that does sustain what you desire to bring about in your life. If you are “fighting weight” then you will live in that battle zone of conflict with the weight until you give up or change your focus. Consider this: Love your body into shape by imagining your divinely appropriate form. This will not be how a model looks in the World, but how you look at your very best. Some bodies are naturally thin with very high metabolism while others are heavier, bigger boned or lower energy. This is not an excuse for not taking care of the body that you have in a way that brings you the very best performance from your vehicle.

The cleaner the food that you eat is the better. I don’t just mean just wash it; I mean be aware of what went into its growth. We were not designed to ingest pesticides, fertilizer or genetically modified foods. God really did have the best idea. You simply cannot grow “fast food”. Be very clear that being angry with companies that have made a choice to create altered food, will only raise your blood pressure. Fighting “the bad guys” will not bring you a healthier body. Hold yourself in Love and seek to be led to the most positively wholesome food you can find. If you believe that you cannot afford good food that will block your ability to find the best. It isn’t about money nearly as much as it is about attitude. We are all being required to change our ideas about how life functions in these times. It isn’t about refusing to change. Give positive thinking twenty-eight days to make a difference and be pleasantly surprised by the difference. If you want it to fail it will. You are an amazing manifester. Being willing to make changes will assist you to bring about the beautiful, comfortable, flexible body that you would just love to have. “I can’t do that” is the quickest way to dead end any endeavor that you attempt. “I’ve tried everything”, is unreal. No one on the [planet, even science has tried EVERYTHING. “I don’t want to” is honest, but not very supportive of what you say you want.

Sit quietly and feel into the fear of not being perfect. Consider what perfection is—stasis and then let go of perfection. Now begin to let Love fill you. Let it go into all of the places where you have been unkind to yourself about who you are. Let Love begin to heal the wounds of not fitting in, of being unacceptable, of just being different and feel a sense of relaxation moving into your body, mind and emotions. “I AM DIVINELY APPROPRIATE!!!” Feel it, feel it, FEEL IT and begin to allow yourself to be led to listening to your body, rather than to your emotions when it comes to what you eat. Keep asking yourself, “Where is my focus?” when it comes to food. Is it on all the things that you like, but cannot have? Is it on deprivation of any kind? Can you begin to discover a whole new world of exciting food that is good for you? It takes twenty-eight days to change your image of yourself, after that it is up to you to continue living in the new pattern. It isn’t going to magically keep going if you quit. Whether it is your weight, your habits or anything in your life that you would prefer to make different it is up to you to “care enough to give the very best” to you. It really isn’t hard work. It is the most beautiful, interesting, joyful endeavor you could possibly undertake. Loving yourself is a life work, but OH, what a life you will have. Don’t take my word for it. Have the experience for yourself. You are worth it.

ST. GERMAIN’S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters, Faith is not an abstract concept that has no meaning in your physical affairs. Faith is real and viable in everything that you seek to create. Faith is the magik magnet that helps you to attract the things that you most desire into your life. The Master Book says, “Faith is the evidence of things unseen “. It is that feeling that things are going to work out, be just fine, even if you cannot imagine how that could be. Everyone has experienced that feeling at one time or another when you are so sure about something and yet you have no “proof” that the outcome you feel can come about. Those around you may challenge your Faith and it takes courage to stand with yourself, but when you do the results can be beyond your dreams.

The essence of Faith can open the neuro-pathways in your brain and allow greater connection to Divine insight. Faith inspires the Pineal and Pituitary Gland and brings new levels of enlightenment into the brain.

Envision beautiful golden-white Light radiating throughout your brain and moving down to the base of the skull where the spinal column joins the head. As this White Light moves down the spinal column it comes to the area of the Thyroid/Thymus and there a large bundle of nerves comes off of the spine and enervates this part of the glandular system. The Thyroid/Thymus are located in the area of the thirteenth chakra, The Second Coming of Christedness. As this area is activated by the Light the energy moves on down the spinal column into the area of the Solar Plexus (no we didn't forget the heart) and the large nerve bundle that feeds the heart, lungs and stomach illumines the spiritual energy of this area, awakening the Truth Center and bringing new levels of Compassion into your totality. It also connects you to greater levels of awareness of how to prosper in the New World.

As you meditate on the feeling that this Light brings you, the up liftment, the heightened awareness and the sense of lightness in all of your systems—mental, physical, emotional and spiritual—everything begins to seem brighter, clearer and much more available to you than ever before.

As you connect within and feel more in harmony with all that you are, you can begin to connect with others in an entirely new way. We have spoken about Agape, Love without a condition that embraces everything and everyone. As you get more accustomed to feeling Love as a constant rather than something that happens now and then or something only associated with romantic love, you begin to open to higher levels of Love that encompass the whole World. So many ask, “How can I help the World?” Love it, simply love it, without any conditions.

So many people are very angry about what is happening to the World. Sit quietly and feel into the Love within you. Get connected to that sense of At-One-Ment and belonging deep inside and pay very close attention to how it feels as your heart opens and the Love energy begins to pour out into the World. Focus on someone that you have had difficulty feeling loving about. You may not agree with President Obama, but as you focus on Love without a condition it begins to open a whole new awareness that allows a different perspective. Prime Minister Putin, any of the leaders in the Middle East or any other leaders, groups, religions or people that cause you distress, fear or anger. Begin to allow yourself to just let the Love in and let the Love that you are feeling pour out to any or all of the World leaders and everyone on the planet. Recognize that they are wounded or angry or frightened. Hold them in Love without deciding what they have to do to deserve it. Move your attention to the people of that country or area of the World and send Love to them, unconditionally. Keep your heart open and just share the Love that fills you. Spend some time each and every day sending Love to all of the World. You may be led to focus on a certain area or a particular person. As you sit with the energy you can feel yourself blending into the totality of the collective consciousness and up lifting yourself and others with the Love.

Focusing on Love without deciding who deserves it or what must happen begins to allow everyone to come into the energy of the Love, leaving no one out. Always make sure that you are included. Start with yourself when you are going to send Love and always come back to yourself when you finish so that you feel filled and wrapped in Love during your day or night.

As you practice focusing on Love rather than what disturbs you or angers you or frightens you, you begin to live in Love and the essence of Love changes your whole life completely. Loving brings a receptivity, an openness to greater good in every aspect of your life.

Be aware that if you are talking about Love, but refusing to feel it the outcome will not be what we are speaking about. Feeling the Love inside of you, letting the Love make the difference is necessary for the positive outcomes to occur.

Love is not a mental aspect. Love cannot be done. You can think about Love, but it always leads to a need to do something. When you allow yourself to feel the Love deep within yourself there are changes in the heart rate, blood pressure, emotional climate and the nervous system, hormones and other vital systems that increase your health and well-being. Simply living in Love puts you into an “altered state” which is a higher level of being. Love changes your responses to everything in life. Any event can reveal potential good and important outcomes if it is viewed from a higher perspective. Without Love it is as though life is seen through a filter that casts a shadow. The Love illumines and enlightens everything and everyone in your life. Are you withholding Love from someone through a judgment? Then there is a place in your life that can only be seen and experienced under the shadow of limit and lack. The more you judge, the more the shadow spreads and the less light you see/feel in your being.

Dearly Beloved Masters, these are such important and powerful times in the life of the planet. Each personal choice that is made now influences where things are going. Will you chose Love and up liftment or will you cling to the old familiar limits because you are not sure that anything could be better?

The connection to those in the After Life is getting stronger all of the time. As with the Masters, those in the After Life cannot override your Free Will. There has been a lot of fear instilled about the Souls that have passed over. Here again, what you believe has a lot of influence on the experiences you will have. Those in the After Life can truly be of assistance if there is not some belief that they are ghosts and will come to haunt you. The mind does not have the wisdom to understand spiritual affairs. Wisdom is connected to Truth that has always stood clear. The logical mind try's to figure things out and when it doesn't understand something it will attempt to make things up so that it doesn't appear as though it doesn't know the answer. There are some things that will never have answers in the physical World. Making up something frightening so that other people won't even want to investigate is old energy of the illusion that is passed.

The Veil is getting thinner and those on the other side desire to be of assistance in the evolution just as much as you do. Open your heart, trust your Faith, allow the Love to guide you and feel the power of a connection that seeks to lift everyone into higher consciousness. That is Ascension and you are living it now. The Mount exists within you. Yes, there are wonderful mountains all over the planet that have amazing energy and there are place that have been deemed sacred which will play a part in the changes.

LET I ASSURE YOU THAT THE MASTERS DO NOT WAR WITH ONE ANOTHER. THERE IS NO ONE OF US MORE IMPORTANT TO THESE CHANGING TIMES THAN ANY OTHER. THE TEACHINGS OF THE ILLUSION ARE NOT GOD'S WILL. WAR WILL NOT HEAL, NOR WILL IT DECIDE WHO IN THE WORLD IS BETTER OR MORE FIT TO RULE. LOVE IS THE ANSWER. IT IS WHAT EACH ONE OF US, AS A MASTER, DESIRES FOR ALL OF THE WORLD.

THERE IS NO RELIGION, NO GROUP AND CERTAINLY NO ONE PERSON WHO HAS GOD'S PERMISSION TO TELL EVERYON ELSE HOW TO LIVE THEIR LIVES. REMEMBER THAT FREE WILL CANNOT BE RESCENDED BY HUMANITY TO SUIT THEIR OWN PURPOSES.

Jesus came to prepare the World for a time that will be lived in Love. Living under the dictatorship of another is not and never has been loving. It is just another round of the same old EGO driven ways. The Mind fights what it does not understand and the “need to be right” is becoming an insanity on the planet. LIFT UP YOUR EYES TO THE MOUNTAINS AND FEEL THE STRENGTH OF LOVE THAT FLOWS TO ALL.

An so it is, Beloved Masters, until we meet again in whatever manner that might be, in the Greatest of Love I bid you Adieu! I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
