March Newsletter

Time change is March 8. It seems that the time change comes earlier each year. It would be lovely if there could be one time and we could be consistent with it, especially since the time change now takes up 2/3s of our year.

As I am writing this newsletter Dorian is clearing away another three feet of snow. It is very beautiful and fortunately the snow is light and fluffy. Our outside cat is very grateful to have his “kingdom” accessible again. The snow was so deep that he could not find a place to sit and observe what is going on in his world. There was over 15 inches of snow piled up in the railing of our deck. I think that the high today is supposed to be 7 degrees.

I had an interesting experience the other morning. I was lying in bed in that state between sleep and waking when it occurred to me to surrender control. I felt the surrender physically, as well as, emotionally and mentally. As soon as I had the thought, it was as though I heard/felt heavy equipment or machinery being moved. Again I felt the sensation physically. I felt the shudder of movement in my body and was aware of tons of old machines being rolled away from this old iron ship that lay on the floor of my “ocean of emotion”. The ship was centuries old and rusty. It was a huge old battle ship—“old iron-sides”. I watched and experienced the transformation for half an hour or more. Then things quieted down and I felt lead to meditate on clearing, releasing and feeling transformed on every level. A couple of days later I was aware that the ship was being raised to the surfaced and there the “White Fire of God” transformed the ship back to Universal essence and returned the energy to the Universe. The symbology of an old battleship lying at the bottom of my emotional ocean and the clearing away of tons of weight from the ship I feel are signals that perhaps old conflicts or attachments to war—both inner and outer—can now be forgiven and released. I certainly hope that this is true. We are all being called to move into higher consciousness and experience the merging of the collective consciousness to allow us to understand, Love and appreciate each other in ways that we have not known in so long that they seem totally new. In truth they are ancient and are the connections that we had to each other and to the Divine when we first arrived on Earth. May everyone find the amazing sense of belonging and protection that comes from living our spirit in our daily-affairs. Blessings.

St. Germain is still offering the “Personal Growth” package continuing in 2015.

We are happy to say that many of you are still participating in the Personal Growth over a year later. We welcome new people all of the time. It is our heart-felt desire that all who are seeking can find assistance where ever they feel led. I personally feel that St. Gemain is a wonderful guide and the assistance that he offers will lift you to new heights of awareness.--Molly

Each month you can get the Teachings, Q & A and a one hour private session with St. Germain to develop your personal evolution in spirit. The cost will be $120 per month with a six month commitment which is a great deal as a one hour private session is $200 normally. Just imagine spending an hour of valueable time each month discussing anything about your growth that you wish with the Master. We have the good fortune of spending time with him regularly and it is such an up lifting experience.

Spring Intensive

Don't forget our intensive "The New World is a Master's Plan—You Are the Master". It will be May 16-17 here at our home. We invite you to join us in person. Call or email Molly for more information.

CDs and mp3s will be available.

Our group for March will be at 2 p.m. on March 15 at our home. The subject that St. Germain will talk to us about is "Coming into Unity with Self and Others".

Everything in the Universe is moving the Earth toward unification. We have lived divided in fear for many lifetimes and now our choices are required to bring us to harmony with each other. The energy of Goddess emerging, the opening within that connects us to the unconditional love of God, and the necessity for us to recognize in each other that we are truly all one is bringing us closer even though it might appear that that is not the case. As St. Germain says, "Ain't nothin' what it seems."

CD's can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2014groups.html

Our Teaching with the Master for March is: "Relationships and Power Struggles". We are engaged in relationships in every aspect of our lives and every level of experience. We have learned to survive in life by creating power struggles for the energy that is available in relationships. We see in global affairs how the power struggles in relationships can influence the whole planet because two or more leaders cannot come to an equitable agreement. Certainly we are watching how power struggles are affecting our country. St. Germain will give us loving guidance to assist us to find not only more peaceful ways of being, but ways that allow everyone to keep their own personal power in the relationship.

Our call-in for the Teachings is the second Wednesday evening at 7 pm MST.

If you haven't had the experience of the Teachings that St. Germain is offering this year they really help us to understand what is going on. It just might be worth your while to check them out. The deep healing power of the Master is there to experience again and again as you listen to the awesome wisdom that he brings. CDs are $15 for each set—Teachings or Q&A. It is $25 to call in one time or $40 for both sessions each month. Postage and handling are separate.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON-March 5

Full Moons always call for integration. The polar opposites of the Sun and Moon and the signs that they occupy creates the necessity to bring harmony and balance to center. Virgo is pragmatic and employs analysis and reason; Pisces is empathetic and draws on intuition and feelings. The left brain is logical and measures, compares and puts things into boxes. The right brain operates more in the natural realms where things are not linear or black and white and everything seems to be happening at once, because the definitions of the intellect are not operative there.

The Sun in Pisces and Moon in Virgo illuminate the fundamental challenges of our time: to integrate the physical and spiritual worlds, to allow logic to be guided by the feeling nature, to temper justice with compassion. It has been over a century since Einstein mathematically proved that everything in the Universe is energy and it is all interconnected. We have moved to Quantum Physics and fractal geometry. We embrace vibrational medicine and higher consciousness, but we still base the everyday affairs of our lives on materialism. Politics, economy and our social interaction lack a holistic world view. The consequences of a space-aged society living in a flat-Earth policy have brought us to the brink of environmental collapse. Everywhere we turn we are being confronted with the necessity to change our consciousness and embrace a global interdependence.

The ongoing alignment of Pluto and Uranus square is impelling a mass shift of consciousness in such a proportion that we simply cannot continue to overlook it. The 7th and final square occurs on March 16 at 15 degrees Aries-Capricorn. Uranus represents the energy of revolution; Pluto, evolution. Whenever these two archetypes join forces, there is a cosmic imperative for radical change on all levels. Their last conjunction in the 1960's coincided with pivotal events such as the Civil Rights Act, the creation of the Peace Corps and the National Organization of Women, as well as the first minicomputer and walk on the Moon.

Squares always mark turning points. In numerology, 7 symbolizes spiritual awakening, collective consciousness, and evolution, suggesting that the primary focus of this 7th square is on shifting our awareness to a higher, more unified level. On March 3 Jupiter make the second of three trines to Uranus (15 degrees Leo-Aries) opening new doors to our creativity, strengthening our courage and helping us to see a much bigger picture than we have considered before. The first trine occurred on September 25 at 15 degrees Leo-Aries and the third trine takes place on June 22 at 20 degrees Leo-Aries. On March 4, Venus trines Jupiter, conjoins Uranus and squares Pluto and on March 11 Mars conjoins Uranus and squares Pluto, adding even more support and pressure for a quantum leap. We are required to transcend third dimensional thinking in order for real progress to occur. Until we allow ourselves to see what is right at our finger-tips we really cannot make the desired changes. The Sun conjuncts Chiron at 17 degrees Pisces on March 7, which will activate new neural-pathways in the brain, expanding our spiritual/material insights.

The necessity for everyone to consider that we are all part of the whole is expanding moment by moment. There are no sides in some illusionary battle, but people who have allowed their fear to blind them to the possibility of a wonderful new world right here. No God or enlightened being is a destroyer. Spirit does not function in those realms of limit. It is not to end the world or win a final battle, but to find a way to live in the loving appreciation that allows us to forgive the divisions of the Illusion.

NEW MOON-March 20

This New Moon in Pisces forms in the wake of the 7th Uranus-Pluto square and marks a turning point of some magnitude. Pisces represents the return to Source at the end of our spiritual journey as the zodiac is completed every twelve months. Alpha and omega, the Ancient is connecting with the NOW and we are experiencing new beginnings as spirit joins with matter to influence the future of our world. Pisces is a water sign and is depicted by two fish harnessed together yet swimming in opposite directions, acknowledging its evolutionary goal to unify all dualities. We are each a very unique drop of water in the sea of Soul. We are individual and yet we comprise the divine ocean of all. We are being brought to accept what mystics have said for eons and physicists now know: everything is energy, everything is connected and everything is in constant change.

This New Moon is a total solar eclipse and will be visible primarily in the far northern regions of Europe and the Arctic. Solar Eclipses are super-powerful New Moons which bring a time for clarity and affirming our highest goals. Eclipses affect the electromagnetic field of the Earth and all its inhabitants. As the Moon moves across the disc of the Sun we experience a release as well as a recalibration—the old codes are being expunged and new downloads are being set in place from the galactic center. Occurring in the last degree of the last sign of the zodiac, this eclipse opens the doors of our perception much wider. The Bible says, “Be still and know that I AM GOD”. We are being called to spend more time in the quiet of our inner connection to God and Spirit. Our intuitions will be heightened and we can recognize just how in tune we are naturally.

As well as the New Moon, Neptune, Mercury and Chiron are all in Pisces now, calling for the left-brain linear and right-brain intuitive to blend bringing a greater sense of balance within our deepest self. We may find that it is easier to “walk between the worlds” or experience the new merging of the afterlife and the material worlds right where you are. Within 13 hours after this New Moon the Sun will enter Aries marking the first equinox of the year. During the time before during and after the equinox the Sun’s alignment with the Earth’s equator generates a lessening of the magnetic field of the Earth, allowing us to access higher dimensional realms more easily. The equinoxes and solstices are pathways of connection with the higher frequencies and thus they empower our intentions and further our dreams. These are exceptional times to engage in prayer rituals and any ceremony that feels appropriate to positive outcome.

More than ever we are being called to live ourselves truly. We have been made afraid of showing up for who we are—will we fail, will we be judged? The things that others can say will either bring down or up lift the whole. Whatever they say it is as much or more a revelation about them than you. To Love yourself is not just words but an experiential experience. Until you are willing to surrender to the Love of the Divine loving yourself is just an ideal that seems unreachable. When you experience the Connection to the God-self within it is as though a whole new world begins to emerge right where you are—a world of belonging and acceptance that makes a place for everyone.

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Contemplating Love

Another month has come and gone and spring is stampeding our way. Things are settling down on the home front and I am totally grateful for that. I'm also grateful that I am creating enough time and energy to keep up with all that is happening.

I got a phone call last week from a man who lives about a mile from me. He had seen the sign for my business and wanted to look at the crystals and visit. It took him just ten minutes to get here. Have you ever met someone and just wanted to hug him and tell him it was so good to see him again for the first time??! That has happened to me before and it surprises me each time. We visited for a while, covering a myriad of topics and then he looked at me and said, "You are amazing!" I never quite know how to respond to a statement like that but it did set me to feeling into how it affected me. I could have down-played it but didn't. I might have returned the compliment but didn't do that either. Later, I thought that it is unfortunate that others can say those things to us and about us and we don't acknowledge them for ourselves. We are told to love ourselves and let go of our judgments but we are the first to judge and vilify ourselves. I remember one time talking to a friend and saying I didn't like myself very much. I was shocked to feel my body curling up within and cringing. Such is the power of words and thoughts. I don't feel that I am to the point in my up-spiral that when someone told me I'm amazing that I would say, 'I know'! But hopefully, I will awaken to the recognition of just how amazing I really am and just how amazing we all are.

Adamite is a crystal that is about the bonding of will and unconditional love. It is an essence of possible becoming for the heart center of those who will accept the higher understanding. It is a wondrous stone of truth and unconditional love. Truly, we must begin to allow the truth of who we really are.

Ajoite/Calcite is another stone that will bring a message of higher forms of unconditional love. This epitomizes the Goddess in her fully emerged state. This is what the integration feels like. It is so sweet, so powerful and yet it is non-threatening. It is so soft and yet it is so strong that nothing can come against it. It indicts to the heart and soul that this is how you remember home because this is what home feels like. If we will allow it many of the stones will help to bring us to our ultimate goal of true, unconditional love.

Amegreen is a combination of Prasiolite and Amethyst and ignites the light that the soul is about through all of creation. This ignites the remembering of that brilliance within self that has been so dimmed by the illusion. It provides the light that the mind could not even imagine if it meditated upon it, for the mind could not imagine going into places of the crystalline clarity or that absolute unimpeded vision. It is definitely a stone of remembering.

I have been seeing and feeling more and more love pop up for those things and those people that I never expected to feel about, one way or the other. Starting about a year ago, a woman called for an appointment for a crystal layout. The time for her to be here came and went and she never showed up. That sort of thing can be attributed to fear and I let it go. Two or three months went by and she called again. I was a little skeptical but set up another appointment for her. Once again, she didn't show up. And then, she called yet a third time. I recognized her name by this time and as I scheduled yet another appointment, I pointedly asked if she was going to make it this time. She assured me she would and did! Not long after that treatment, she called once again and wanted more help. After the session, as she was getting ready to leave, I felt a great wave of love for her wash over me. It was simply amazing. I desire more of that kind of love. I choose love!

QUOTES FOR THE MONTH from St. Germain

To live the life that you desire requires that you focus on what you would love to live. Rather than just think about it, FEEL it. If you can put yourself into the energy of your desire and experience the delight, then you can live it and even more. --St. Germain

Truth is divine. When you seek to live the truth of your being you will experience the feeling of connection with the divine within. The strength that fills you when you connect to Divine Love is the greatest power there is. --St. Germain

When you are ready you will change. When you attempt to force change either nothing will happen or you will begin to fear what might happen, even if the potential is positive. The EGO is always alert to find things that it can use to keep you in limit. When someone brings you a new idea, be willing to examine it. Even if you do not agree with what is said consider that this idea came because there is a gift in it. Forgive throwing away the gifts because of prejudice.
--St. Germain

When you finally know your enemy well enough to destroy them, in that moment you will also love them. --Ender Wiggins, Enders Game

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Dearly Beloved Masters, now and then we mention Karma, but in these times it is imperative that everyone understand that Karma is Divine Law. It is not a device of the EGO for control even though it has often been used in that frame.

Karma is a Law of Balance that operates naturally in everything on the planet. For example: humanity has come to believe that telling lies is just a part of life. There has been no association between telling a lie and unfortunate outcomes in the life. People say, “Everyone has misfortune. There is no correlation between untruth and misfortune.” However, as you begin to pay attention to the Law of Attraction in your life—whatever you put out you will get back. It may not look exactly the same and that is another reason that the logical mind dismisses how divine law operates. Let us say that someone tells another person a “small lie” (“you might not even say it was a lie, it just wasn’t altogether the truth”). In the energy of these times people are becoming more sensitive to energy even if they do not understand what they are feeling. When you are not honest it affects your energy. The energy drops and when it drops it feels depressive. This down energy makes people think that there is something wrong and they move away from the one who is shading the truth or perhaps they seem to doubt what is being said. They probably could not say why—it just doesn’t feel good. So in a relatively short period of time, usually with in a day or two someone will tell this person a lie and it will become clear rather quickly that the one who told the original lie has been lied to.

There are no accidents!! Everything and everyone are connected by the energy of creation. Anything that happens influences the whole. How you conduct your affairs, the integrity of your life, even what you think that you don’t tell anyone has a direct influence on those around you and those on the other side of the planet. In the Illusion it has become easy to believe that each person is separate and what they are creating only affects their life or perhaps those close to them. The truth is that every action or thought is a Master’s choice. It isn’t “nothing”. It is always SOMETHING.

Cruelty or bullying disguised as humor has been a ploy of the EGO for lifetimes. People will say something damaging to another person or about a child in front of the child as though they are not there and that is a double wound. Even if the comment is not made directly to the person the energy is released into the Universal consciousness and it literally can find many sensitive targets.

Suddenly, big corporations are being hacked for millions of dollars. Banks are losing money in massive sums to those who believe that they have right to take from the “rich and give to the poor”. The finite mind does not consider that those whose money is in those banks may have worked very hard to have the money to put into the bank and now it is gone. Stealing has never been justified, but it has been condoned by those who do not understand the far reaching physical/emotional/spiritual effects of misconduct by a few. Those who hack into the banks, large corporations or stores are no different than those they are stealing from. This is not a judgment call from the EGOic mind, it is a Divine Law that was set in place before humans were ever created. These Laws govern all of nature as well as the human realm.

Karma simply balances the imbalances. As the energy accelerates into higher frequency good and bad, right and wrong begin to fall away. They were measures of the limits of the Illusion. In the higher planes the behavior of the physical plane becomes blatantly obvious and then begins to disintegrate. Dishonesty, theft, abuse, cruelty simply are not a part of the energy of the fifth dimension and above. It is not that they are banned. The energy of higher consciousness simply does not lend itself to lower vibrational thoughts or actions. The higher the frequency the quicker Karma responds so that the injustices that could happen in the third and fourth dimension will not get far enough to culminate in the higher vibrations. As you allow yourself to focus on the higher energies you will begin to perceive an essence of protection that makes you aware when misfortune could occur, thus you can make choices to rise above the “accidents of life”.

The finite mind is quick to dismiss these concepts as fantasy because people want to continue to live as they have. Everything is changing and it is influencing the whole of life, all life on Earth.

As everyone is being moved to live consciously there is a whole new world right at the tips of your fingers that has always been there, but could not be revealed until it was time. NOW IT IS TIME. Many still will not be aware of this new world. They may still believe that the

New Earth is somewhere else. As the New Heaven unfolds right here the New Earth will become more apparent all of the time.

The polarization of politics and religion are stirring the Laws of Karma even more. The belief that if someone does something to you it is only right to retaliate is in both sides of the issues on the planet. There is much talk about being on the “right side” when the time comes. War and control games have never made the planet a better place. In fact, the wars, both global and internal, are creating disease and destruction everywhere. Everyone everywhere is involved and everyone on the planet is affected. The global economy is being borne down with the weight of mismanagement, lack of consideration and the emotions of hatred and fear. The belief that there is not enough for everyone is a cruel untruth. This is a planet of plenty. Why is it not visible? Because where each person directs their own focus of life creates the life that they live. Going around and around mentally, in the same thought forms simply reinforces those patterns in the life and in the “world” that each person constructs by those thoughts. If you keep reciting limiting laws that you have learned from parents and society you keep reinforcing those ideas and making them stronger for yourself. Every time something happens your EGO says, “See it happened again. That’s just how it is.” And for you it will be because as a divine creative Master that is what you are empowering in your world.

The more the sense of fear that “the other side” is out to get us, the faster Karma is bringing events to get people’s attention that this polarized thinking is the core issue, rather than that there really is danger in the “other side”. The danger is in the unbalanced thought processes on both sides. Those who might seek to maintain balance are quickly lumped with the opposite side depending on whether the person is far Left or far Right. Dearly Beloved Masters, we call you to find center within yourselves. It is not about taking sides. As we have said many times “IN HIGHER CONSCIOUSNESS THERE ARE NO SIDES!!” Sides are a construct of the Illusion and as the Old Order is passing away many are struggling to maintain the old standards even though they were never clear or true in the finest sense.

Those who want power at all cost fall into the control game of intimidators. They frankly do not care about right or wrong, they really do not wish to hear anyone else’s opinion, they just want the power rush of having the opposition fail. Making others wrong gives them a fix like a drug. They are so out of touch with what is truly happening because they are lost in the fog of the “need to be right” at all cost. Only when each person can value themselves clearly and maintain high energy so that the intimidators cannot use their bullying tactics to take power will these war games on the planet begin to diminish and finally end. It takes great courage to connect within self and find the power that is your God given gift, feel it and then live in that clarity which is amazingly up lifting. Fortunately, Divine Law cannot be rescinded by those who wish to “take over the world”. Divine Law is a foundational factor in all religion even though it have been overlooked or dismissed by those who find it inconvenient, or used to manipulate or control by twisting the meaning. However, God has not forgotten how the Law was designed nor the intensions with which it was created. Each soul on this planet has a direct connection to the feeling of what is appropriate and what brings the energy down when it is contemplated. The Brain is wired with the connections that can now open new doors of enlightenment within each person. Karma will continue to balance energy faster and faster until each person can no longer ignore the fact that WHAT YOU SEEK TO DO TO OTHERS, YOU DO TO YOURSELF. Good Karma is created by keeping the balance within your own thoughts, ideas, emotions and potential creations. Punishment was not a device of the Divine—EVER.

The Earth has come to the point of decision before and then turned away. This time everything is moving toward the necessity for change in a Master’s way. Fighting brings the energy down and prevents those of us in the higher planes from lending assistance. We cannot override your free will, as much as we desire to see you have a positive outcome. It is for each one to make the choice to stand strong and clear within self, to feel the power of love in the higher frequencies and to hold the intension of making a difference in the ongoing times. Masters are interdependent. We understand fully that nothing can be done by self alone. It is about being open to allow help and to trust that the highest good for all concerned is the way of Love.

We are with you every step of the way. In the greatest of Love I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
