Our pictures this month came from a trip up the switchbacks to Louis Lake. We had been given a beautiful meditation from St. Germain and he spoke of our Rite of Passage. This little tree so courageously growing up through a rock is like humanity in this time. We are breaking through the illusions that would tell us that we “cannot” to discover that anything is possible as we trust our connection to I AM.

The mountain vista is so inspiring to our Soul journey and the baby moose speaks to us of ever increasing self-esteem as we recognize our connection to our ancient wisdom deep within. At this point it appears that we are young in the remembering, but we are discovering that our ancientness lives in the very fiber of our being-ness.

It would seem to me that as the planet escalates into greater tests the opportunities for healing are growing equally.

When we can view “disease” as an opportunity for the changes that lead us toward ascension, rather than a step toward death things begin to shift in powerful ways. In mid-August I found myself heading for the emergency room in the middle of the night because my heart was fibrillating. I did not miss the coincidence that it was almost exactly six years ago to the day that I found myself making the same trip. At one a.m. in the morning the town was very quiet. We saw only three cars in the twelve miles from our house to the hospital. I noted just how much the town had changed in that six years. I thought about how much I have changed in six years.

We arrived and even the emergency room is now in a different place than it was in 2006. The people, at our small hospital, always same to be in a good mood and they are very helpful. There were not a lot of people in emergency that night and I got the full, undivided attention of the staff.

By the time I arrived the fibrillation had stopped. This was much better than six years ago when the doctor said, “You better have a talk with your heart or I will have to admit you”. He left the room and I said, “OK, heart we get to get into rhythm here.” The doctor came back and my heart had established sinus rhythm. I got to go home.

I was checked out, blood work was done, I was given some Diltiazem and declared ok. I was given Diltiazem six years ago and it works very well. I took it until I felt that my body could respond on its own. I was very careful about paying attention to how I felt and if I required to take the pill I did. The doctor in charge of the ER fixed me with a penetrating stare and asked me if I had done so well that I had been taken off of the drug before and I said “yes”. I don’t require to rebel, but I do have to be aligned with my own body. That is my responsibility. I see so many people who just “do as they are told” to death. It is so easy to just continue taking drugs and adding more without thought by patient or doctor. I feel that my body is a sacred temple and I am responsible for its healing and protection. I do not make arbitrary choices based on like or dislike. I do not leave off my pills because “it is too much trouble”. I pay attention.

I have been doing a lot of meditation with the White Fire of God and asking for changes in all areas of my life in a positive and powerful way. I feel that this trip to the ER is part of the answer. I do not feel afraid or punished. I feel loved and blessed that the necessary steps are put in my path to on go in love. I am feeling better with each day that passes and I am looking forward to seventy even more now. I truly feel that if we are willing to allow our good, and not judge what it must look like, we can make exceptional progress in the heightened energy of these times.

I have a friend who, upon observing the challenges that people are experiencing on the “path”, has decided to back off. We cannot make spiritual evolution without meeting things that require to be forgiven. Whether that will be easy or not is our own personal choice.

The group in August “What and Where is Center” answers so many questions that people have asked over the years and broadens our scope of what is available to us in the higher frequencies. St. Germain makes suggestions about how to use the White Fire and the Violet Flame. He defines Center and assists us to recognize the peaceful, loving aspects that await us there. There is no limitation or feeling that anyone is left out. It is up to us to let ourselves be a part of the good. No one else can say whether we are good enough to be there.

St. Germain has given me a picture of a triangle with REMEMBRANCE across the bottom, ACCEPTANCE up the right side and ALLOWING down the left side. He says that as we REMEMBER THE LOVE and ACCEPT that what we remember is true we can ALLOW ourselves a deeper remembrance which invites greater acceptance and empowers deeper allowing. This goes around and around creating an upward and inward spiral of loving blessings that we have not believed we could have. This is a feeling process. The mind wants steps in order to create a separation from the center and spirit. This spiral can only be accomplished by forgiving the need to think about the idea and a willingness to allow the inner connection. Center is a sweet, soft, loving place filled with peace—everything that the EGO-ic World is not about. We will not let ourselves go there if we feel that we deserve punishment or if we worship a tiny god that denies us access to our connection with Love. When we shift our focus to loving, empowering, uplifting thoughts and keep the focus there on matter what, our whole world begins to change—(Not THE WORLD and not the world of others, but our own personal sphere of dominion and personal power.) The EGO wants to keep an eye out to see if others are watching. The EGO wants to prove it is right. The EGO is looking for failure, in self and others, as it “tries to do the right thing”. The focus on Love includes none of these ideas.

These are amazing, trying times. We are tested by the World to see if we really want the good life. The Good Life is not based on what we own, what we do or who we know. The Good Life is filled with everything that we have imagined and so much more if we can let go of the need to keep doing things the way that we always have. The intellect says, “Yes, of course. Now how do I do that?” Listen to what your mind is saying and change the focus. Focus on love and what you would desire your life to be RIGHT NOW. The EGO is constantly pointing out what is wrong, what doesn’t work, who is doing the wrong thing and this distraction is responsible for the negative outcomes in our lives. The more we fight, the more we listen to the litany of lack from our EGO the more ensnared we become. It takes courage and discipline to achieve the Good Life simply because we have been taught not to believe that it is real. That is where the really big changes are occurring. Trust that you have unlimited help from the Masters. Live by the Faith that light your way in the dark places. Be True to yourself. We are making tremendous progress no matter how it looks. Love, Molly

Rainbow Center News

Our September group will be held at 2 p.m., at the Rainbow Center, 177 N. 4th St. in Lander. The title is “Burning Away the Dross”.

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2012groups.html

Our “Chats with the Inner Merlin” for September is “Moving Deeper into the Magik”. We see the Darkness all around us. The Light is burning within. It is again to be reminded to go deeper into self, deeper into the “I AM Presence”, deeper into your own inner magik.

To order CD’s or DVD’s www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/evenings.html

This picture was taken at the Olympics in London. The Full Moon just had to get into the act.

FULL MOON

Due to my rush to get out the August newsletter I overlooked the Full Moon on August 31, so I am including its info in the September newsletter. It was a Blue Moon, but in the chaos of the times a Blue Moon's impact gets lost in the shuffle.

This Full Moon on August 31 is in Pisces. This is like a spiritual tsunami. Every planet interacts with this Full Moon. It emphasizes the ongoing Pluto/Uranus square that is moving us to reconsider every aspect of our lives and allow what has been, for so long, unconscious to become conscious. The things that we have most avoided coming to terms with are the very things that we must now confront and forgive. Old, unresolved emotions, fears, doubts and angers are surfacing in order for us to transmute, transform and trans-send them.

One of the most powerful shifts that we are experiencing is the openings of synapse that connect the right and left hemispheres of the brain. Our left brain functions like a computer based on linear, logical, literal aspects. The right brain perceives in a holistic manner. It is nonlinear, symbolic and recognizes patterns and metaphors which relate to feelings. Images, dreams, music, much of art and imagination all come from the right brain. The right brain can consider all possibilities and it operates in realities that have been placed into the realms of myth by the logical mind. The right brain deals well with quantum physics while the left brain wants to deal in terms of classical physics.

For centuries the analytical, segregative abilities of the left brain have been considered superior to the right-brain functions. There is a wonderful book called "A Stroke of Insight" that defines the realms of the right brain from the personal experiences of a scientist who found herself totally in the right brain after a stroke disabled her left brain. The story about her return to left brain connection and how she came to appreciate the right brain's input gives us a whole new perspective on where we are going.

Virgo notices trees; Pisces sees the forest. The Western mind tends to embrace the "real world" of Virgo and dismiss the metaphysical views of Pisces. As we enter the new world of the Aquarian Age we are required to integrate the paradoxical truths of Pisces. We are both particle and wave, transitory and eternal, finite and infinite. Chiron and Neptune are conjunct the Moon in Pisces which helps us to see that as everything is changing, nothing is separate. We are being brought to the point where we must accept that body, mind, emotions and spirit are all aspects of a perfect Whole.

Venus in Cancer makes a square to Saturn in Libra which brings us to be much more aware of our feelings and how we express or withhold them. Venus makes an exact semi-square to the Sun and sesquiquadrate to the Moon bringing more of our personal self into the mix. Just before this Full Moon the Sun made the second of two trines to Pluto this year. This provides the release mechanism to free us from the things that have been holding us back. The North Node also entered into Scorpio on the same day and will remain there until February of 2014. This transit just puts more attention on the necessity to allow unconscious patterns, that have held us in a prison of our own making, to be transmuted.

We can bring the Earth a gift now. The gift is our remembering who we are so that we can truly appreciate all that this amazing planet has and will continue to provide for us. As we remember, we will also begin to recall our full connection to the Source of all Goodness, our "I AM" presence. We have yearned for so long to find "something". Now we are discovering that what we have longed for is ourselves—whole, awakened, incarnate.

I find it fascinating that this Full Moon occurred on the last day of the Republican convention. The whold thrust of the energy of this Full Moon is about moving forward, leaving the old ways behind and the spotlight is on women and the part they are stepping up to play in the evolution of the worlds affairs. The focus of the convention was to get women to accept that Mitt Romney supports them. He supports women in their traditional role as wife, mother and supporter of “her man”, but when it comes to women stepping outside of the box there is a line drawn. Women in a new role as equals, gays and lesbians desiring to be treated as equals in the affairs of life, people of other races, religions and monetary status deserving equality is almost beyond comprehension in the minds of those who still cling to the patriarchal beliefs. There is a strong desire to get the money back to the banks, insurance companies and large corporations. The harder we try to do things the way we always have the more difficult it gets for business to function.

We are constantly reminded that there is no back to go to. President Obama did not create the woes of this country any more than any other one person did. We all make choices daily about where we will put our focus and where we want life to go. Who we elect is not nearly as important as our own personal, energetic input into how our own life is moving or not. Each one of us constitutes a piece of the collective. Will you allow yourself to fit comfortably and peacefully or will you present jagged edges that won't fit anywhere. Your individuality is not based on rebellion, but on clarity. Who are you in all of this? Each person can make a difference in how things go. Make the choice for the “highest good of all concerned” including you.

The Full Moon just passed simply underscores the fact that we cannot stay the same or go back. The only way open is forward into the UNKNOWN.

NEW MOON

The New Moon in Virgo occurs on the 15-16 and it is another harbinger of change. If you feel that you are tired of change and want it to stop there is truly nowhere, in these times, to go to escape the changes. They are Universal and Cosmic changes. The evolution of the Earth acted as a trigger to a gigantic mechanism in the cosmos. It was as though the whole of creation was waiting to exhale and when the Earth moved into its appropriate and appointed shift everything began to move in new ways. As Pluto ends its yearly retrograde on September 17 we are motivated to step forward. When a planet changes direction, its archetypal energies are intensified. It tends to hover within one degree for several months. Pluto in Capricorn exposes the consequences of turning our back on our power and responsibility. Just as we are moving toward the next presidential election we are being shown what we must change within ourselves in order to effect changes in our country and our world. We are confronted with the truth—WE REALLY DO CREATE OUR OWN REALITY.

We can look back at how previous aspects of Pluto and Uranus have affected us, but as these two major forces in the heavens make the second of seven squares over the next decade we must recognize that there is nothing with which to compare these times. We must access the new with a much more right-brained focus. The old responses simply will not address where the planets are taking us now.

Uranus represents chaos and moving into the unknown. “In the beginning everything was without form and void”. St. Germain says a movement—a thought or an action—of one half inch here affects a thousand miles in the Universe. Where are you directing your thoughts? What are you trying to do? Is that really what you want to set in motion for the cosmos? YOU ARE NOT SMALL OR INSIGNIFICANT. YOU ARE A DIVINE, CREATIVE MASTER!!!

Mercury, traditional ruler of Virgo, joins the Sun and Moon at this New Moon and then on the 20th it forms an exact T-square with Pluto and Uranus (7 degrees of Libra, Aries and Capricorn respectively) highlighting the necessity to think beyond the box!!! Uranus is the higher octave of Mercury and relates to higher mind, which is capable of blending logic and intuition. Mercury sitting opposite Uranus triggers mind blowing insights and inspires greater revelation. The squares to Pluto offer a reminder to forgive judgments and be mindful of our motivations. Whatever you fight becomes bigger in the energy of these times. Be pro-kindness. Let Love occupy your mind and heart. Vesta and Ceres square the Sun and Moon, Pallas's make a conjunction with Uranus and Juno cojoins the North Node to call forth the Divine feminine for healing and uniting. Remember to breath. Fear causes us to hold our breath which simply contributes to tension. Keep your focus in center. Fear is energy and energy is neutral until we give it a name. Keep renaming your energy as something that serves you rather than dominates you. DO REMEMBER THAT THOSE WHO SEEK TO CONTROL PEOPLE ARE COMING FROM FEAR. Will you join them or rise above the limits?

The root of the word weird means “having the power to direct destiny”. It is time for us to be weird in our most loving and powerful way. Trust where you are going and remember, “none of really know where we are going until we arrive”. You are creating your future moment by moment by what you think. As we evolve we are meeting the truth of “You create your own reality” every moment.

FULL MOON

The Full Moon in Aries that lights our way on September 29-30 is electrical in nature. It takes place within one degree of the Uranus (in Aries)/Pluto (in Capricorn) square. This lights up the sky and it also lights up our lives in a BIG way. We must move forward. There is “no back to go to” and we cannot stay the same. The old order has been in its death throes for many years and now we are beginning to recognize that we can no longer live by the standards of those times because they simply do not apply to where we are or where we are going. “Our Father’s values were appropriate for our Father’s time, but not for this time or the future”. Do remember that we are all in this together. Be kind and compassionate because no matter what it looks like there is no one further ahead or behind. Each one is on his/her own path and all paths lead to the One.

The Divine feminine is standing forward in the heavens now. Ceres at 1 degree Cancer closes a grand square with the Sun at 7 degrees Libra, Moon at 7 degrees Aries conjunct Uranus and Pluto at 7 degrees Capricorn. This highly charged grand square is about break new ground and exploring new territory—primarily the inner realms that have been feared and neglected for life times. Ceres, the great Mother Goddess, calls for a balance of the Divine masculine and Divine feminine, between humanity and the Earth and between the Souls impression and the minds direction. Ceres will turn retrograde on October 31 and will continue to closely aspect Pluto and Uranus through mid-May 2013, bringing women into roles of power and redefining how they influence the affairs of our world. Ceres will remain in Cancer until June of 2013 causing more focus on creativity and relationships. Those born with Uranus in Cancer (1949-1956) and those with Uranus in Capricorn will be especially motivated to bring about new perspectives toward relationships, money and the ecology.

There are several other factors that are signposts on the rising road to feminine power. Venus, traditional ruler of Libra and Taurus, is within one degree of exact square to the lunar nodes in Scorpio-Taurus—this urges us to reconsider the roles of man and woman and begin to see people rather than actors on the stage. Real men and real women have been typecast for so long that discovering who you truly are requires detachment from role modeling. BE YOUR OWN BEST SELF. If you don’t know what that is, it is past time to get to know you better. Mars moves into conjunction with the North Node in Scorpio, squaring Venus and asking the question “When will you stop fighting everything?”

On October 5, 2012 Saturn moves into Scorpio and leaving its passage through Libra for another 29 years. Over the next three years Saturn and Pluto will be in mutual reception. In other words Saturn, which rules Capricorn, is in Scorpio which is ruled by Pluto and Pluto, ruler of Scorpio is in Capricorn. This interaction requires us to be more responsible for how we use our power and resources. Saturn transiting Scorpio puts emphasis on the shadow self and calls of the healing of old wounds that we have carried—sometimes for life times.

Relationships all include masculine and feminine aspects. The gender of the two people involved does not define what role they will play or on what day they will play it. In order to have a balance of masculine and feminine energy on Earth we must first bring the inner male and female into harmony. Getting to know your own inner male and female can be extremely revealing. In meditation call the inner man and inner woman to come and stand before you. Remember that they are your creation so judgment is inappropriate. Ask each one to tell you about how it feels to be “a man” or “a woman”. Have him tell her what he desires in the relationship and then allow her to tell him about her desires. Your part is to remind them that “I” messages are much kinder and more freeing than “you” messages. “I feel that we do not communicate well or enough” gives the other person space to consider how they feel, rather than “you do this or that and if you would just change this relationship would work better”, which is just material for another battle over who is right and who is wrong. The healing brings everyone to a point where there is the recognition that in Love there is no right or wrong.

Each one of us is now being required to acknowledge our own greatness—not the EGO-ic strutting and preening for attention, but the still, quiet recognition of our own “Magik Presence” within. Live the Love that you are. IT IS IN THERE!!!

CRYSTAL CORNER

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Wow! Where has the summer gone? It has been hot and dry here and we are choking on smoke from numerous wildfires in neighboring states. It seems the whole world is challenged with the shifts going on which brings me to the theme of this column. I've been experiencing the trials and tribulations of the increased energy coming in and I know I'm not the only one. So, which of the stones and crystals would aid us most? Years ago, my mate was experiencing heart problems, primarily rapid and irregular heartbeat. St. Germain recommended that he use Smithsonite. He also reminded us that we need to give the body permission to keep up with our energetic up-spiraling. Makes sense, doesn't it?

SMITHSONITE, named for Smithson who founded the Smithsonian Institute, comes in several different colors. Whether you choose blue, pink, green or lavender or a combination of the colors, the energy works the same. It assists the body to be comfortable and balanced as the energy accelerates. Not a generator, nor truly an amplifier, it is more a stabilizer for the very high energies currently happening. You would use a piece in the heart area and the groin area at the same time.

If you find that you have an overabundance of energy, try using a wand or blade made of SELENITE. This would be very directional and would move energy away from the body.

There are many instances when dealing with this abundant energy will bring on emotional chaos and mental disturbance. STIBNITE, while being most definitely a grounding stone, will deal specifically with that chaos and disturbance. It would bring an understanding of what has caused mental unbalances for those who are in institutions. They have been disturbed because they didn't understand what they were involved with or what they were in touch with. Many times, it made them insanely fearful. I will admit that stepping into this energy and the spiral upward without being able to compare it to anything that has gone before has made me a little edgy! This stone would bring a gradual alignment that could definitely bring someone home to themselves.

TEKTITE is a meteorite and a connector to the multi-dimensional realities. It holds one in place to deal with realities and maintain sanity. It is to be worn by those who are experiencing shifts in their energy. Do you know of anyone who isn't??? It is for the mental and emotional balance in dealing with the chaos of many different energies coming together at once.

TAROT TALK

For these amazing times I chose the Universe as our card for this month. The Runes are Mannaz, the symbol for your wholeness, the archetypal complete person. You are a child of the Universe, and Othila. As the Beloved child of Divine creation you have inherited the gifts and qualities of the Universe.

Like the center stone in the Universe card, you possess within you a universe of possibilities. What you imagine exists. You can create anything that you will accept that you can as long as it is made in and of Love.

The Universe is the archetypal concept of wholeness through diversity and change.

Be open to the unlimited possibilities that await you at your very finger-tips if you will accept them.

The Universe card reminds us of our dominion over Universal substance and our ability to create anything that we are willing to allow "according to the highest good of all concerned".

The rune Mannaz is the beginning—The Self. It's essence is water and it requires the willingness to change through inner clarity. Remain modest, no matter how great your merit may be, be yielding, devoted and moderate, for then you have a true direction for your way of life. This is a time of major growth and changing your focus from the outer World to the inner one is imperative.

The self must know stillness before it can sense the AT-ONE-MENT!!! When the rune of self is cut in half it becomes the rune of Joy reflected in itself. The first counsel of the temple of Delphi Know Thyself.

Othila tells us that old skins must be shed. The old ways must be left behind. As we release the "old" the memories of our most ancient self are revealed clearly. Surrender is imperative. Accept that you have done all that you can and now you wait to discover the next step. This stillness allows that which is yours to come to you. Your Divine Inheritance awaits, but so many are aggressively pursuing the gifts "out there". The gifts are waiting within. Letting go of position in society, the work that you do or even the beliefs about your own nature is necessary to free you to become more of who you truly are. This is not a time to be bound by old conditioning or old authority. Good serves all, but no one has the authority to decide what is good for another. Be adaptable, flexible and open to the gifts that await you in the Divinely appropriate moment.

When the Universe card turns up in your reading it is putting you on notice that the good that you have been seeking is available NOW. Stop pushing and forgive striving—let the becoming unfold without your attempts to manipulate the outcome.

1. THE SELF

The Rune Mannaz (Self) opens the Runic instructions and then the circle closes with the Blank Rune, the Unknowable, the God Odin. Self remembers that in the beginning the force of Love held dominion over all things. You were given the spark of life and personality to create in this illusion. As you close the circle you return home, which lies in the very depths of your being.

4. SEPARATION

Othila (Separation, retreat, inheritance) speaks to what you are about to receive. It can be gifts of Spirit as well as goods of physicality. It is to wait humbly, rather than rush forward in desperation, for fear that if you do not grab the gift and run with it, it will be denied to you.

Blessings are pouring out on us in these times if we are willing to “Be still and know that I AM GOD”.

The Rune Cards, Sacred Play for Self Discovery, that I used to define the runic messages, have been created by Ralph Blum who has been working with teaching the Viking Runes as a tool for self-counseling since 1980.

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Dearly Beloved Masters, you are the Light of the World! In the midst of the chaos all around you it is for each one to find, feel and live the brilliance of your Divine Light. Recognition of the Divine Light is imperative.

Owning your Dominion over Divine Law IS NOT A MENTAL PROCESS. The fearful mind is driving men mad. The belief that if you kill what you do not want or like or accept that will make it go away. The madness is causing men to want more and more guns as though the number of weapons will somehow create safety. Hatred is bringing those who are the most wounded emotionally and spiritually to think that they are ridding the world of Evil by mass murder. They think that the annihilation of people will make the planet a better place. They THINK and THINK and THINK. They dare not feel for the pain that drives them is too great to face. They do not understand that no matter what they do God always Loves them. They have no comprehension of how Divine Law functions—that each and every Soul is governed by kindness and compassion that makes no judgment. All come under the Law. The Law of the Divine is not man's law. Humanity looks for a reason to punish self and others. This belief is old and entrenched. There is not one shred of truth in it. Man has created a god in his own image that is petty and as filled with fear and hatred as those who need such a god. Righteousness is separatist. It sets one group above or apart from another. Superiority is not and never will be Holy. The concept that God could Love one person or group above others is the foundation for “holy wars” and sibling rivalry—totally human. Churches are a part of the old order that promotes separation. Jesus never set himself above the World. He understood Divine Law and used it gloriously. He brought an example to the World of how to live “in the World, but not of it”.

THE WOUND THAT IS BEING REVEALED, EVERYWHERE, IS THE DESPERATE NEED FOR LOVE THAT EACH BEING IS DISCOVERING WITHIN THEMSELVES. This WOUND is so great that it blinds the consciousness to the connection with the Divine that abides within.

The EGO looks around and says:

“Why do they get what they want and I do not?”

“Why are they rich and I am struggling to make ends meet?”

“Why am I less blessed than they are, after all that I DO?”:

Do you truly understand what you desire and what is important to the ongoing of your evolution? Allow it. That is all that is required.

Do you take the time to be grateful for all that you have right now, or are you so intently focused on the UNKNOWN, UNFORMED future, where someday things will work, that when what you ask for comes you cannot see it because it is here and now? You do not receive out there. It is not where you are. What you receive here and now is what you will allow—no more, no less. God will grant your highest and best desires, as you are willing to let that much good into your life. When you are angry about others you are separate from yourself. When you are worrying about the affairs of the World, your lack of trust causes you to abandon your own safety and sovereignty.

YOU CANNOT EARN GOD’S LOVE. GOD IS NOT A HUMAN WHO IS IMPRESSED WITH ACTION. WORKS WILL NOT GET YOU INTO HEAVEN, NOR INTO GOD’S GOOD GRACES. You cannot DO Love. It is not a mental or material activity. We, the Masters, keep affirming Divine Law. Many who read my words regularly think that I am forgetful because I keep repeating my words. I do not forget. I see where your mind goes with my words and how, after I say that you cannot work your way into a position of power with God, you still are attempting to decide just what you can do that is more impressive to God than what others are doing. There is a massive escalation of energy to do things that are more exciting, things that are more excessive, more impressive things than others, even if it is to kill more of the “enemy” than anyone else.

BELOVED MASTERS, DO YOU REALIZE WHAT KILLING DOES TO YOUR SOUL? BY

DIVINE LAW NO ONE CAN KILL ANOTHER, IN ANY WAY, (MENTALLY, PHYSICALLY OR EMOTIONALLY) AND “GET AWAY WITH IT”.

The very entertainment of the thought of killing begins a process of disintegration in the physical body. Living in hatred is why disease and death continue. Masters, we know that this is not a popular idea. Everyone wants to be told that they are wonderful. YOU ARE WONDERFUL, BUT IF YOU DO NOT BELIEVE IT, IT DOES NOT MATTER. The need to be told that you are great and good again and again—yet the refusal to live that Truth in your life—becomes another addiction.

We the Masters have taken the time to connect with the power of Love that brings about manifestation. We have Dominion over the substance of creation. This ability belongs to everyone, but you don’t just take the power and do what you want with it. You are now (here on Earth) in the midst of the outcome of what the idea of “power over and domination” has brought about. Divine Law is about the highest good of the whole. When we discover that people in high places have made a choice to side with EGO (the ways of the World), we do not plot to kill them or wound them. We simply hold an intension that they will reveal what they are about so that they reap the reward of the wages of misconduct and ill will.

ONE OF THE GREATEST TOOLS IN THESE TIMES IS DISCERNMENT. Discernment is not a mental decision based on opinion. Discernment is an allowable—allowing Divine Mind to show you the way within argument or justification. DIVINE MIND DOES NOT TAKE SIDES. True discernment comes from the internal connection to The Mighty I AM Presence within. The White Light of God blazes in each Soul. The darkness of the mind’s limits can cause a choice to be made that disallows light in the affairs of the World. The mind cannot extinguish the Light of God, but it can create beliefs that God does not attend to “mere mortals”. MIND does not have the ability or the authority to override God’s will.

There is so much happening so fast now. We have said that you are passing 500 linear years in 2012. As the Master Book says, “If these times were not shortened no life would be saved.” Everything that is not about the highest good of the whole must be transmuted, transformed or transcended. “I don’t want to be here so I will just leave” brings death which only means that the entity must return to the Earth plane and continue to forgive the wounds of many lives. “I don’t believe that” has very little if any bearing on the overall scheme of things, now. Beliefs, opinions and dogmas are disintegrating in the turmoil of CHANGE. The truth of who you are lives within you. It is the only thing that can bring you safely through these times. There is no where but HERE, and no time but NOW. Even time can seem to be untrustworthy as the time/space continuum breaks down.

“But where do we turn?” the cry goes out. WITHIN!! The World is an illusion. The reality of your being lies in the depths of your selfhood, in the center of your essence which is bigger than your mind dares to comprehend.

You may notice the sense of being pulled into darkness by the EGO. Your Spirit is so much stronger than that, but you have given power to the World and all that the EGO represents for so long, that it is as though you are literally breaking chains of bondage to an unseen force. You know the Truth, but the EGO-ic mind brings up questions and draws you back to the intellectual process of deciding what is right and what is wrong. IN LOVE THERE IS NO JUDGMENT, THEREFORE, THERE IS NO RIGHT OR WRONG. Divine Law operates beyond right and wrong, which are tools of separation.

We are not advocating “breaking the law”. We are attempting to show you how to find the Path of Love within that leads you to a higher perspective. Living by Divine Law is strong, clear, powerful and Loving. It is directed by compassion and forgiveness of anything that is not about Love. In Divine Law you remember your Dominion over Universal substance. You remember how to create for the highest good of all concerned. In that understanding the idea of right and wrong do not exist.

The EGO steps forward and says, again, one more time, “But, how do I do that?” We will keep saying, as many times as it requires for you to Hear, really Hear, “You cannot do Spiritual Law”! It is an “Allowable”. Understanding is an essence that exists in the depths of your being. The MIND does not understand. It knows the word, but it does not comprehend the Majesty of understanding. The MIND GATHERS KNOWLEDGE. It sorts and files and put things into categories, but without the directive of Spirit the MIND does not understand the Truth. The MIND would even say that We, the Masters, are “splitting hairs” with words. One of the first things that is spoken in your Master Book, is to point attention to the importance of the power of Words. Words have energy and carry creative power. When you begin to feel how Words feel in your center you begin to understand just how powerful your thoughts, ideas and spoken Words are. Your thoughts can kill or heal, you and/or others. There are no idle words or thoughts—each one inspires an outcome.

As you step into the higher dimensional frequencies the reaction time to your thoughts is progressively shortened. The fifth dimension is and always will be the Causal plane. You simply have been taught that you can only go there in your mind, you could not live in that energy. The accelerated motion of change is thrusting everyone into the higher dimensions. You are living there. There are many who are still attempting to live in the old energies and they are becoming progressively more overwhelmed by the limits that they are encountering.

The rules of the old way, such as:

Hard work pays off. Get a job and you will be safe. If you work hard enough, long enough you will get rich. These concepts are not working. Why? Because the energy has become a battle, rather than a standard for creativity!!

The emphasis on jobs, jobs and more jobs is getting further and further behind. The JOB mentality is dying with the old order. The boss/worker, parent/child, superior/inferior beliefs are breaking down. “They were supposed to take care of me” no longer is viable because if you are so convicted that you cannot take care of yourself it affects all of your choices. Consider the insanity of “I have to do it all by myself” vs. “They are supposed to take care of me”. These contraries are the stuff of which war is made and that war is raging within you. Forgive being responsible for the whole World and come home to take re-sponse-ability for yourself. We are not saying that the feeling of accomplishment that comes from a job well-done is inappropriate. It is fulfilling to create something satisfactory. It is the energy of “hard work” that is heavy and creates a sense of laboring through life waiting for something to happen that never does.

It is not wrong or bad to desire ease in your life, as long as you are willing for all others to have it also. It is inappropriate to expect someone else to give ease to you. That sets the stage for a battle—“make my life easy, I dare you”. What someone else calls ease may have nothing to do with your concept. Get clear what you are looking for and allow it to manifest. You will be shown the divinely appropriate course to follow to bring peace and ease into your life with joy and prosperity.

You can no longer look back to see where you are going because where you have been does not relate to the future that you are creating today.

You will hear anything that you wish to hear, but the question in every situation is "How does it feel"? There are many who will assure you that they have the final Word and the only Way. "How does it feel"? We keep offering instructions to assist you to remember Divine Law within yourself. Our highest desire is your ascension. Waiting for us to do it for you is an exercise in futility. You are completely required to be involved in your evolution. Mentally or physically, folding your hands and waiting to be ascended means waiting until you realize that nothing will happen until you create the opening.

The planets in the heavens are offering energy that will inspire you to move forward and upward. We are constantly available to assist as you will allow. You are not alone, but you CANNOT DO THE CHANGES. The mind must be willing to surrender to the Soul's directive and then Love can show you the way. The EGO is fighting its last, most desperate fight and losing ground moment by moment.

If you don't know where to turn, look within. Love awaits you there. Until we meet again, in whatever manner that may be, in the greatest of Love I bid you Adieu!! I AM the Lord St. Germain

When we were at the Lazaris event in San Mateo, CA Dorian brought a piece of a crystal from a stone that is called "The Eleven Tears". The crystal hangs in The American Express building in New York as a memorial to the eleven employees who died in 9/11. You can go to YouTube to "Eleven Tears" American Express and watch the video about how the crystal was designed and how it honors the fallen employees. It is a beautiful story and the crystal is breath-taking. The piece that Dorian has has an energy that is soft and peaceful.

The other night we had just watched "Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close" which is about 9/11. I went to check my emails and this story was the first email I opened:

Here is an amazing story from a flight attendant on Delta Flight 15, written following 9-11:

"On the morning of Tuesday, September 11, we were about 5 hours out of Frankfurt, flying over the North Atlantic. All of a sudden the curtains parted and I was told to go to the cockpit, immediately, to see the captain. As soon as I got there I noticed that the crew had that "All Business" look on their faces. The captain handed me a printed message. It was from Delta's main office in Atlanta and simply read, "All Airways over the Continental United States are closed to commercial air traffic. Land ASAP at the nearest airport. Advise your destination."

"No one said a word about what this could mean. We knew it was a serious situation and we needed to find terra firma quickly. The captain determined that the nearest airport was 400 miles behind us in Gander, New Foundland. He requested approval for a route change from the Canadian controller and approval was granted immediately--no questions asked. We found out later, of course, why there was no hesitation in approving our request.

"While the flight crew prepared the airplane for landing, another message arrived from Atlanta telling us about some terrorist activity in the New York area. A few minutes later word came in about the Hijackings.

"We decided to LIE to the passengers while we were still in the air. We told them the plane had a simple instrument problem and that we needed to land at the nearest airport in Gander, New Foundland to have it checked out.

"We promised to give more information after landing in Gander. There was much grumbling among the passengers, but that's nothing new! Forty minutes later, we landed in Gander. Local time at Gander was 12:30 PM! that's 11:00 AM EST.

"There were already about 20 other airplanes on the ground from all over the world that had taken this detour on their way to the U.S. After we parked on the ramp, the captain made the following Announcement: "Ladies and gentlemen, you must be wondering if all these airplanes around us have the same instrument problem as we have. The reality is that we are here for another reason." Then he went on to explain the little bit we knew about the situation in the U.S. There were loud gasps and stares of disbelief. The captain informed passengers that Ground control in Gander told us to stay put.

"The Canadian Government was in charge of our situation and no one was allowed to get off the aircraft. No one on the ground was allowed to come near any of the air crafts. Only airport police would come around periodically, look us over and go on to the next airplane. In the next hour or so more planes landed and Gander ended up with 53 airplanes from all over the world, 27 of which were U.S. Commercial jets.

"Meanwhile, bits of news started to come in over the aircraft radio and for the first time we learned that airplanes were flown into the World Trade Center in New York and into the Pentagon in DC. People were trying to use their cell phones, but were unable to connect due to a different cell system in Canada. Some did get through, but were only able to get to the Canadian operator who would tell them that the lines to the U.S. Were either blocked or jammed.

"Sometime in the evening the news filtered to us that the World Trade Center buildings had collapsed and that a fourth hijacking had resulted in a crash. By now the passengers were emotionally and physically Exhausted, not to mention frightened, but everyone stayed amazingly calm. We had only to look out the window at the 52 other stranded aircraft to realize that we were not the only ones in this predicament.

"We had been told earlier that they would be allowing people off the planes one plane at a time. At 6 PM, Gander airport told us that our turn to deplane would be 11 am the next morning. Passengers were not Happy, but they simply resigned themselves to this news without much noise and started to prepare themselves to spend the night on the airplane.

"Gander had promised us medical attention, if needed, water, and lavatory servicing. And they were true to their word. Fortunately we had no medical situations to worry about. We did have a young lady who Was 33 weeks into her pregnancy. We took REALLY good care of her. The night passed without incident despite the uncomfortable sleeping arrangements.

"About 10:30 on the morning of the 12th a convoy of school buses showed up. We got off the plane and were taken to the terminal where we went through Immigration and Customs and then had to register with the Red Cross.

"After that we (the crew) were separated from the passengers and were taken in vans to a small hotel. We had no idea where our passengers were going. We learned from the Red Cross that the town of Gander has a population of 10,400 people and they had about 10,500 passengers to take care of from all the airplanes that were forced into Gander! We were told to just relax at the hotel and we would be contacted when the U.S. airports opened again, but not to expect that call for a while.

"We found out the total scope of the terror back home only after getting to our hotel and turning on the TV, 24 hours after it all started.

"Meanwhile, we had lots of time on our hands and found that the people of Gander were extremely friendly. They started calling us the "plane people." We enjoyed their hospitality, explored the town of Gander and ended up having a pretty good time.

"Two days later, we got that call and were taken back to the Gander airport. Back on the plane, we were reunited with the passengers and found out what they had been doing for the past two days. What we found out was incredible.

"Gander and all the surrounding communities (within about a 75 Kilometer radius) had closed all high schools, meeting halls, lodges, and any other large gathering places. They converted all these facilities to mass lodging areas for all the stranded travelers. Some had cots set up, some had mats with sleeping bags and pillows set up.

"ALL the high school students were required to volunteer their time to take care of the "guests." Our 218 passengers ended up in a town called Lewisporte, about 45 kilometers from Gander where they were put up in a high school. If any women wanted to be in a women-only facility, that was arranged. Families were kept together. All the elderly passengers were taken to private homes.

"Remember that young pregnant lady? She was put up in a private home right across the street from a 24-hour Urgent Care facility. There was a dentist on call and both male and female nurses remained with the crowd for the duration.

"Phone calls and e-mails to the U.S. and around the world were available to everyone once a day. During the day, passengers were offered "Excursion" trips. Some people went on boat cruises of the lakes and harbors. Some went for hikes in the local forests.

Local bakeries stayed open to make fresh bread for the guests. Food was prepared by all the residents and brought to the schools. People were driven to restaurants of their choice and offered wonderful meals. Everyone was given tokens for local laundry mats to wash their clothes, since luggage was still on the aircraft. In other words, every single need was met for those stranded travelers.

"Passengers were crying while telling us these stories. Finally, when they were told that U.S. airports had reopened, they were delivered to the airport right on time and without a single passenger missing or late. The local Red Cross had all the information about the whereabouts of each and every passenger and knew which plane they needed to be on and when all the planes were leaving. They coordinated everything beautifully. It was absolutely incredible.

"When passengers came on board, it was like they had been on a cruise. Everyone knew each other by name. They were swapping stories of their stay, impressing each other with who had the better time. Our flight back to Atlanta looked like a chartered party flight. The crew just stayed out of their way. It was mind-boggling. Passengers had totally bonded and were calling each other by their first names, exchanging phone numbers, addresses, and email addresses.

"And then a very unusual thing happened. One of our passengers approached me and asked if he could make an announcement over the PA system. We never, ever allow that. But this time was different. I said "of course" and handed him the mike. He picked up the PA and reminded everyone about what they had just gone through in the last few days. He reminded them of the hospitality they had received at the hands of total strangers. He continued by saying that he would like to do something in return for the good folks of Lewisporte.

"He said he was going to set up a Trust Fund under the name of DELTA 15 (our flight number). The purpose of the trust fund is to provide college scholarships for the high school students of Lewisporte. He asked for donations of any amount from his fellow travelers. When the paper with donations got back to us with the amounts, names, phone numbers and addresses, the total was for more than $14,000!

"The gentleman, a MD from Virginia, promised to match the donations and to start the administrative work on the scholarship. He also said that he would forward this proposal to Delta Corporate and ask them to donate as well. As I write this account, the trust fund is at more than $1.5 million and has assisted 134 students in college education.

"I just wanted to share this story because we need good stories right now. It gives me a little bit of hope to know that some people in a faraway place were kind to some strangers who literally dropped in on them. It reminds me how much good there is in the world."

"In spite of all the rotten things we see going on in today's world this story confirms that there are still a lot of good and Godly people in the world and when things get bad, they will come forward.

"God Bless America...and the Canadians.
